The Chancellor's Message

As Archbishop of Dubuque, I feel that one of my chief responsibilities is the office of Chancellor of Loras College.

Loras has a most unusual and inspiring history. It is administered and, for the most part, staffed by priests of the Archdiocese of Dubuque. Since my days as a student I have admired the tireless industry and the learning of the Loras faculty, priests and laymen alike.

Every year presents new challenges to the College. There is the challenge of rising enrollments. There is the challenge to modify and to enrich every department of learning. There is the perennial challenge to adapt the spiritual program to the problems of our times. There is the rising challenge to produce lay leaders in every field of Catholic interest. Loras College is a leader, not a follower, in the modern world.

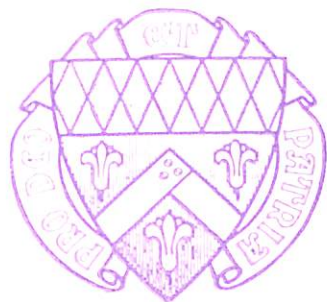

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to and my confidence in the administration, faculty, students and alumni of our College.

THE RT. REV. DORANCE V. FOLEY

The President's Message

I feel I should tell the Seniors as they leave Loras that the joys of working for you outweighed the burdens college faculty members face and carry today. May I ask you to frequently say a prayer that with God's help and guidance we can go on, and help the fine, capable and promising students that come to Loras.

DELTA EPSILON SIGMA

NATIONAL CATHOLIC HONOR SOCIETY

Seniors nominated to Delta Epsilon Sigma, national honor fraternity, are left to right, seated: Russell M. Bleich, Ronald J. Naser, Kenneth W. Kraus, James L. Steimel, Arthur T. Huinker and Louis W. Wunder. Standing: William J. McKillip, Paul R. Hesselmann, James L. Huston, Robert J. Offerman, Thomas A. Ryan, Richard N. Kurtz, John D. Callan, James A. Rynard, James T. Stessman and Leo A. Ruggle.

The Delta Epsilon Sigma is a national scholastic honor society for students and graduates of Catholic colleges and universities. Election to membership in this organization is based primarily on high standards of scholarship, coordinated with leadership, achievement, and general ability. Ten percent of the senior class may be chosen for this recognition, and the selections are made by a faculty committee composed of Delta Epsilon Sigma members.

The Loras College chapter of this national society was instituted under the leadership of the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, a former dean of studies at Loras, now Bishop of the Winona, Minnesota, diocese. Due to the fact that Msgr. Fitzgerald was actually the man responsible for the formation of Delta Epsilon Sigma, Loras College has been granted the chapter title "Alpha."

The induction banquet was held traditionally in May at the Bunker Hill Country Club. The certificates and keys were presented to the members at the ceremony, which was under the direction of the Rt. Rev. Msgr.

George N. Schulte, president of the Alpha chapter of the Delta Epsilon Sigma.

The members of the graduating class of 1957 who were chosen to receive this honor were: Russell M. Bleich, Miller, Iowa, philosophy major; John D. Callan, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, history major; and James L. Huston, Des Moines, Iowa, English major.

Others included in the list are: Kenneth W. Kraus, Waterloo, Iowa, chemistry major; Richard N. Kurtz, Jesup, Iowa, philosophy major; William J. McKillip, La Crosse, Wisconsin, chemistry major; Ronald J. Naser, Fort Dodge, Iowa, philosophy major; Robert J. Offerman, Dubuque, Iowa, biology major; and Leo A. Ruggle, Perry, Iowa, commerce major.

Also named to membership in the society were: Thomas A. Ryan, Dubuque, Iowa, biology major; James A. Rynard, Dubuque, Iowa, commerce major; James L. Steimel, Waterloo, Iowa, economics major; James T. Stessman, Missouri Valley, Iowa, English major; and Louis W. Wunder, Anamosa, Iowa, philosophy major.

GRADUATION THE CLASS OF 1956

A United States Senator from Massachusetts, a bishop from Iowa, and a Dominican priest received honorary degrees during Loras College's 117th Commencement exercises, June 3, 1956. John F. Kennedy, Massachusetts Senator, gave the commencement address, while the Most Rev. Ralph L. Hayes, bishop of Davenport, delivered the baccalaureate sermon. The Most Rev. Michael Browne, O.P., Master General of the Dominican Order, also received an honorary degree.

One hundred and four Loras College seniors received degrees at the afternoon exercise in the college gymnasium at 3 p.m. Baccalaureate services were held in the morning at 10 a.m., with the Most Rev. Loras T. Lane, J.C.D., D.D., as celebrant of the Mass. His Excellency, The Most Rev. Leo Binz, D.D., L.L.D., archbishop of Dubuque, presided at the baccalaureate Mass.

Students especially honored were James B. Harrington, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Thomas F. Pfeffer, Des Moines, Iowa. Harrington received the Gerald F. O'Connor Award, presented to the outstanding member of the senior class. The Catholic Action award, based on unselfish devotion to the college, went to Thomas F. Pfeffer.

James B. Harrington, winner of the O'Connor Award for outstanding senior in 1956.

Thomas F. Pfeffer, 1956 senior, and winner of the Catholic Action Award.

THE LONGINES SYMPHONETTE

The famed 40 piece Longines Symphonette, with its conductor, the equally famed Mishel Piastro.

Tuning Up

Mishel Piastro gives a little assist in tuning up the piano before the concert in the Loras gymnasium.

On March 26, Loras students and many Dubuque residents filled the Loras College fieldhouse for another presentation in the fine series of the Loras Community Cultural Service. The occasion was a concert given by the Longines Symphonette, conducted by the famed Mishel Piastro. The symphonette consists of thirty-one New York musicians, well-known for its radio broadcasting since 1941. The Longines Symphonette is the same as a symphony orchestra in all respects, except that it has a smaller number of instruments. Every instrument sound in a symphony is represented here, with the essential difference being that a symphonette has a smaller string section.

The Longines Symphonette was very well received, being called back for four encores at the end of the program. The selections varied from strictly classical music, such as Bach's "Concerto No. 3 for Two Violins," to a rendition of "The Irish Washerwoman," and a medley of songs taken from "Oklahoma." The popularity of the symphonette was strongly illustrated by the large group of radio fans and autograph seekers who made it difficult for the musicians to leave the fieldhouse.

The Longines Symphonette is now on its seventh consecutive tour of the United States and Canada, and is becoming more popular at every appearance. It began in 1941 as a chamber orchestra, consisting of thirteen musicians of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, and has since grown to its present size.

John Logan Lecture

Mr. John Logan, distinguished Catholic poet, was present at Loras College, October 19, in St. Joseph's Auditorium, to deliver a lecture-recital to the student body, members of the faculty and residents of Dubuque.

Entitled "Some Catholic Lay Poets of Today," the lecture included selections from such poets as Leonie Adams, Ernest Sandeen, and John Hardy. He also read several of his own works in the field of poetry.

Professor Logan received his M.A. degree from the State University of Iowa, and has done graduate work in philosophy at Georgetown and Notre Dame Universities. At present he is assistant professor in the general program of liberal education at the University of Notre Dame.

His first volume of poetry, "Cycle for Mother Cabrini," was published in 1955. Wallace Fowlie, reviewing it in the New York Times, wrote: "Such spirituality as can be found in this book is always terrifyingly independent." Mr. Logan has also had several articles published in scholarly magazines, among which are Commonweal and Chicago Review.

Mr. Logan's lecture was very well received, and the audience responded with generous applause. Those who availed themselves of this opportunity to hear an outstanding Catholic author came away with a better understanding, appreciation, and knowledge of poetry.

The Rev. Raymond F. Roseliep of the Loras College English department chats with Mr. John Logan, author and lecturer, before his October lecture in Dubuque.

Miss Vera Denty

"Love makes the world go 'round," is perhaps a frequently used adage, but one applied appropriately by psychologist Miss Vera Denty to introduce her lecture entitled, "Love of Life," which she presented to students and faculty members of Loras College, February 7, in St. Joseph's Auditorium.

Miss Denty spoke of the necessity of love in order to achieve true happiness in life, all love leading to the one ultimate end, God.

On the subject of learning to love and accept another, she stated that: "Love means the taking in of undesirable qualities and wrapping them up so they don't hurt."

Regarding child training, Miss Denty stated that love must not be used as a weapon or as a "reward" or conditional thing. It must be considered, and is, something natural.

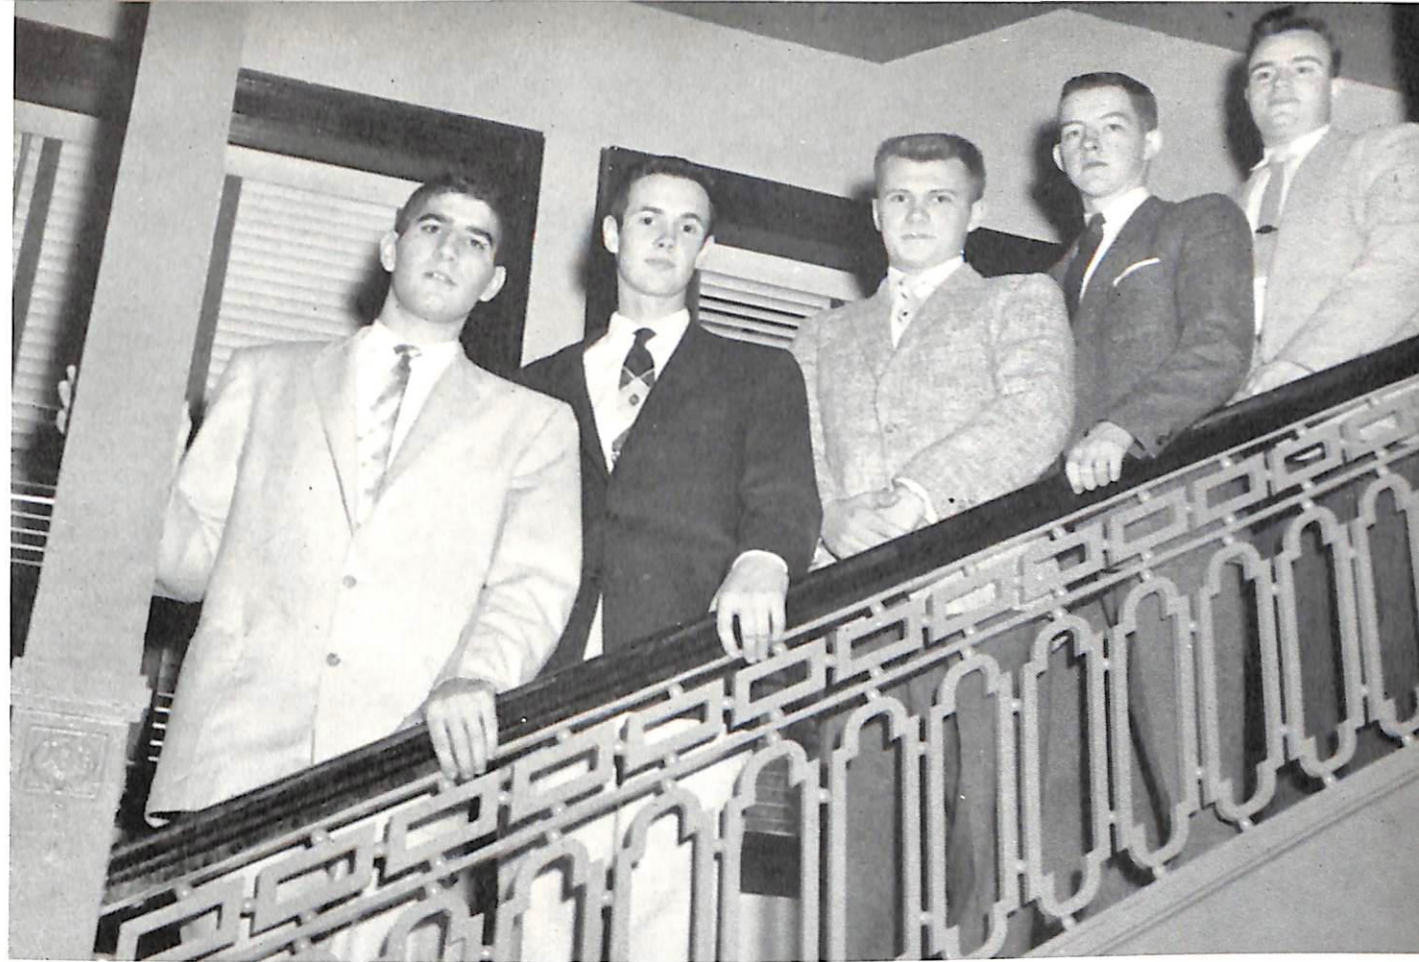

Miss Denty concluded her stay with another lecture in the chapel auditorium, February 8, on the topic of "Play Therapy."

Miss Vera Denty is a member of the British Psychological Association and the American Catholic Psychological Association. She completed her psychoanalytical training in London under the late and noted Professor J. C. Flugel.

OFF HOURS

"Let's have a snowball fight" and with that it's on! In on the scramble are left to right, Pat Saefkow, Dixie White, Ann White, Katie Joyce and Lavonne Johnston.

Don Meyers of Loras helps Eileen Klos on with her coat, before leaving Mercy on a date.

PURGOLD SERVICE AWARD

The Catholic Students Mission Crusade, organized in 1918, is a national federation of Catholic student groups in the United States, its purpose that of acquainting Catholic American students with the general work of the mission apostolate all over the world and in our own homeland. The complete CSMC program includes prayer, study and mission work within the scope of student life.

The CSMC is not merely a mission aid organization. Rather, it urges its members, as their first duty in mission aid, to support the Pontifical Association for the Propagation of the Faith and the Association of the Holy Childhood; also to follow the directives of their Diocesan Mission Directors in local mission projects. These ends are accomplished under the direction of the very capable CSMC officers: John Wright, president; Victor Ramaecker, vice-president, and Vern Stapenhorst, secretary-treasurer. In addition there are three committeemen, Frank Palmer, Dennis O'Brien and James Gorsche.

Included in the work of the CSMC are such projects as refreshment sales at football and basketball games, paper sales on Sunday and mission relief drives. One of the biggest (and most successful) projects is the St. Patrick's Day Mission Auction, held this year on March 16.

The Very Rev. Msgr. Ernest P. Ament served as moderator of the CSMC group, which this year has received the Purgold Service Award for their contribution to the welfare of the students and the college.

ACTIVITIES

A Big Day For All Irishmen

Some Irishmen celebrate St. Patrick's Day by marching in a parade, but not the Irishmen at Loras College. At Loras the students commemorate "the wearing of the green" in an entirely different way by participating in the annual St. Patrick's Day auction. This traditional affair is sponsored by the Loras unit of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade.

The item that captures the spotlight in the annual auction is the celebrated statue of "Matilda", which is sold to the hall with the highest bid. This year the lovely lady was the object of spirited bidding, as student coalitions rapidly formed to provide enough buying power to purchase her. "Matilda" was finally bought by a determined group from North Hall, who paid $265 for her.

St. Patrick, in the form of a statue donated by the college president, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Dorance V. Foley, went on the block for the first time during the 1957 auction. The faculty united in a concerted effort to buy the statue, but were finally bested by the entire student body when the latter group came up with a bid of $165.

The biggest struggle of the night was the traditional battle between the Irish and the Germans for possession of the Irish flag. The Irish mustered the sum of $30.90 and rescued their treasured flag.

In addition to these articles, such objects as a tuxedo, an electric shaver, a high fidelity set, and even a picture of someones ex-girl friend, were auctioned off. Although many of the items had little monetary value, the spirit of competition and charity prevailed. The auction, under the direction of John Wright, Russell Bleich, Victor Ramaecker, Miles Conway, and Karl Glovik, set a new record by totaling $1785.

N.F.C.C.S.

The purpose of the N.F.C.C.S. is to help service campus clubs and to furnish them with information regarding their formation and function.

Every year during the fall, winter and spring the N.F.C.C.S. of Loras College, which is under the direction of Rev. Cyril A. Reilly, meet with six other Iowa colleges to discuss and iron out any problems brought up during the course of the year and, at the Spring Congress, to elect officers for the coming year.

Also during the year, Loras, Clarke, Mt. Mercy, Mt. St. Clare, Marycrest, Ottumwa Heights, and St. Ambrose attend regional council meetings, which include all regional officers and all junior and senior delegates.

The eight regional commissions in the NF include senior delegate James Freiburger and junior delegate Patrick Hayes, who are responsible for the proper functioning of these commissions on the Loras campus, and who represent the college on the national level. The two regional chairmen at Loras are Stanley Fedoruk, representing the International Relations Commission, and Thomas Burdt, Forensics Commission Chairman.

During the past year the N.F.C.C.S. has had some outstanding accomplishments. For example, the International Relations Commission has been helping the Loras students to attain a better understanding of other countries by the establishment of a new club, temporarily called "The Foreign Students Union." The Forensics Commission sponsored the Catholic Midwest Speech Forum, held at Loras on March 31 and April 1. Some 75 students from eight different colleges in the Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Chicago regions participated in this meet, designed to give those who have no previous interscholastic speech experience a chance to compete against people in their own class. The Campus Social Committee, headed by Norbert Norpel and Charles Cilona, presented the Lenten social highlight, namely, "Hernando's Hideway." This annual show consisted of a variety of vocal numbers, instrumentals, and skits.

The Men Behind N.F.C.C.S.

OFFICERS

Officers of the Delta Sigma pictured above include, left to right: standing, Thomas A. Ryan, treasurer; the Rev. William C. Kunsch, moderator; and Jerry C. Hickey, Delta Sigma representative to the Student Senate. Seated, Edward J. McMahon, president, and Joseph W. Mayer, secretary.

On Sunday, December 16, the Delta Sigma held its annual pre-Christmas Communion breakfast, keeping within its purpose of serving as the official organ which has been set up to provide a social and spiritual organization for those students who live off-campus.

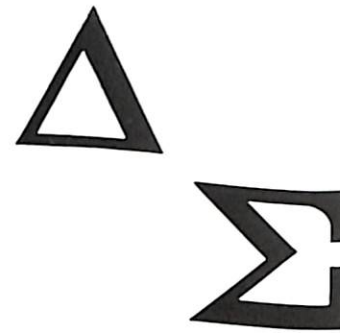

Holy Mass was offered by the Rev. William Kunsch, moderator. A breakfast at Bunker Hill dining salon was held immediately after, with Mr. Hugh Callahan, Dubuque Chief of Police, as featured speaker. Mr. Callahan's address was entitled "Law Enforcement as a Career." Chief Callahan related some of the more humorous incidents in his position with the police department.

This was the first of the Delta Sigma sponsored Communion breakfasts, two of which are held during the year.

On Sunday, April 14, the second Communion breakfast was held, with breakfast again served at Bunker Hill Country Club following the Mass celebrated by Fr. Kunsch. The speaker at this occasion was Mr. Joseph Flynn, recently released county superintendent of schools in the Dubuque area.

The Annual Delta Sigma Sweetheart Ball was held in the Loras College fieldhouse February 14. Miss Linda Marcum, Clarke College sophomore, was featured as Sweetheart of the Ball. Miss Marcum reigned by virtue of an old tradition in which the guest of the president of Delta Sigma, this year Edward McMahon, is designated to preside over the ball.

Decorations were centered around a Valentine's Day theme and were carried out under the direction of John Glunz, chairman of the decorations committee. Music was provided by the Vance Dixon orchestra.

The Delta Sigma fraternity, which was established on the Loras campus sixteen years ago, is primarily an organization devoted to providing spiritual activities and social functions for those students who live off-campus. This group is designed to encourage the spiritual aspect of college life, since those living off-campus are somewhat removed from the religious functions on-campus. This end is accomplished in part by the Delta Sigma Communion breakfasts. The social aims are fulfilled through the smokers scheduled throughout the year. These social gatherings are open only to Delta Sigma members; however, various mixers and the Sweetheart Ball in February are open to all students. In this manner the fraternity hopes to encourage interest in student activities. All off-campus students are automatically included in the membership of the Delta Sigma, and most members take a likely interest in the activities of their fraternity.

The officers of the Delta Sigma for this year were: Edward McMahon, Chicago, Illinois senior, as president; Francis Butler, junior from Chicago, vice-president; Thomas Ryan, Dubuque senior, treasurer; and as secretary, Joseph Mayer, senior from Waterloo, Iowa. Jerry Hickey, Madison senior, served as Delta Sigma delegate to the Student Senate.

The committee chairmen were John Glunz, Chicago senior, and John Burke, Sterling, Illinois senior. The men who made up the decorations committee headed by Glunz were John Diver, John Burns and William Palen. Burke served as ticket chairman for the various social functions.

The Rev. William C. Kunsch was the faculty moderator of Delta Sigma, and directed these men in their activities throughout the 1956-57 school year.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER AWARD

Every year the Delta Sigma fraternity presents a trophy to the athlete voted by his teammates as the most valuable player of the year. Since the selection of the player for the award is made by other members of the varsity basketball team, it is an award from the team itself, but presented by the Delta Sigma.

Richard Wright, outstanding Duhawk guard, merited the award for 1956-57 and was presented with the trophy at the final home game of the season. Thomas Ryan, Delta Sigma treasurer, made the presentation. Wright finished the year with a total of over 1000 points, a distinction in itself, since Dick was only the fifth Loras player in the college's history to achieve this magic point total.

This is the fourth time that the Delta Sigma has made the presentation of the trophy. Although four years might seem a relatively short time for an award to gain distinction, the most valuable player trophy now has the reputation of being one of the most coveted and sought-after athletic awards given at Loras.

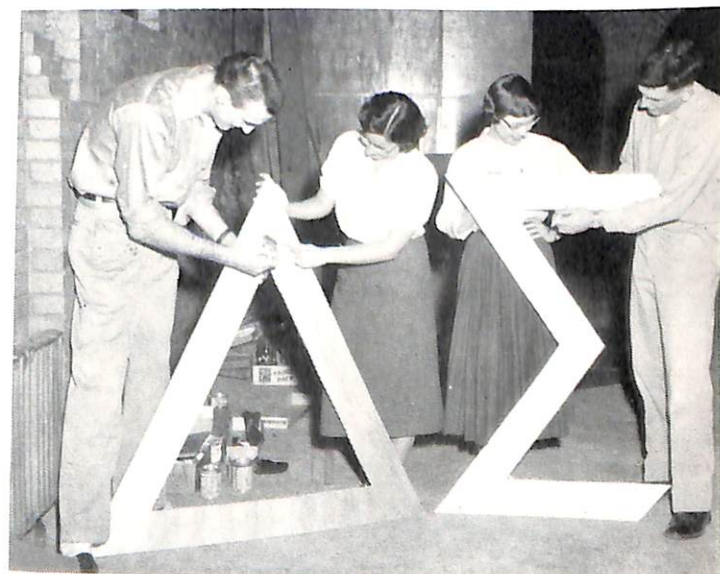

Dick Wright, left, was chosen this year to receive the Delta Sigma award for the most valuable player on the basketball team. Here he is shown accepting the trophy from Tom Ryan, Delta Sigma secretary.

The Sodality is a religious organization dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary. These students have advanced much of their spare time to increasing devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary through evening rosary and first Friday devotions among the Loras student body. They are known for their outstanding work in Catholic action carried out each year, to help someone less fortunate than themselves. May, the month of Mary, is also their month, as that is the time for daily rosary at the Grotto.

The reception of members into the Sodality, December 8, marked another record for new members, with 47 new members being added into the ranks of the soldiers of Mary. Victor Ramaeker, chairman of the membership committee, planned and arranged for the reception ceremonies.

This past year the Sodality has concentrated on two projects. The first was initiated by a trip to the Anamosa Reformatory, November 1. At this time the Sodality realized the great need for good literature for the inmates of the reformatory to aid in their education and rehabilitation. They formed teams to canvass all of the student halls on campus for good magazines, textbooks and small missals.

The Rev. Cyril Engler, Anamosa's Catholic chaplain, stated that the men craved mail as they were limited in their correspondence with each other. Consequently, the Sodality members began corresponding with the inmates.

The Christmas project, planned and headed by David Boger, consisted of the rubber stamping of all student outgoing mail with the inscription, "Put Christ Back Into Christmas" from December 10 to December 20.

THE VESTED CHOIR

Behind the altar of Christ the King Chapel, we find one of the truly outstanding groups at Loras College, but one that is too often taken for granted. This is the Vested Choir which has contributed the music for Sunday High Mass and all special religious feasts at Loras. They have added greatly in beautifying the Mass since 1909.

The Vested Choir was founded by the late Rev. Alphonse Dress for singing the Liturgical music of the Mass at Loras every Sunday and Holyday. They have faithfully fulfilled this service for the past 48 years.

It requires many hours of individual practice and then later, considerable diligent group practice to attain the perfection shown by the vested choir this past year. For the past eight years, the Rev. Albert Carman has directed the organization and preparation of the choir. Through his able supervision, he has a vested choir worthy of acclamation.

Each spring the choir, composed of approximately 45 members, display the effects of their hard work and practice on the annual tour. This year the choir performed at St. Matthews Church, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Immaculate Conception Church, Charles City, Ia.; and St. John the Evangelist Church, Independence, Ia.

A small group of men, the sacristans, is seldom seen performing the main bulk of its duties, but nevertheless faithfully and diligently fulfills its many obligations. In order to insure the successful completion of every religious ceremony, from daily Mass to special devotions, the sacristans must be on duty to assist the celebrant with his vestments and see to the other necessary preparations. Not only does the sacristan rise early to assist at Mass but is often expected to be in the sacristy late at night to set up the altar for the following morning.

The Keane Hall men who have accepted the duties of sacristans are led by Leo Ruggle, head sacristan. Other Keane Hall students assisting him are James Duncan, Richard O'Brien, John Baranowski, George Howie, Norbert Norpel and Joseph J. Heller.

North Hall sacristans also did an excellent job under the leadership of Gasper Guggino and Karl Glovik, joint head sacristans. Assisting them were Howard Miller, Denis Kuennen, Vincent Heinrichs and James W. Kiernan.

Two men assumed the sacristan responsibility at Smyth Hall in the persons of Thomas Gordon, first semester head sacristan, and James Buechele, head sacristan during the second semester term.

Roger J. Linnan tries the "Bing" routine on an entertained Vaughn Gayman during the Christmas Concert.

The aim of the 1957 band, under the direction of Mr. Vaughn Gayman, was to present a well planned program of music to the student body. During the football season the band played some fresh, spirited numbers for the pleasure and increased enthusiasm of the crowd and team.

At half-time of the Loras-Stout State game, November 3, bandmen put on a safe driving demonstration that attracted national attention.

The end of the football season was only the beginning for the student musicians. Basketball fans heard the best of the current pops and jazz as the bandmen got in their "licks" at half-time.

All this time the band was sneaking away Monday nights and Sunday mornings to practice for their annual Christmas Concert. The concert was held December 9. It featured jazz, classical and popular music interspersed with comical routines.

The band ended the year as usual with the spring concert, which featured the music from two hit musicals, "My Fair Lady" and "Pajama Game."

ANNUAL RETREAT

Reflecting the increased enrollment, the retreat this year was again held for two separate groups of lay students, off-campus and on-campus. Beginning on Ash Wednesday evening, the retreat continued for three days until March 8.

Keane and St. Joseph's Hall were assigned seats in the college gymnasium for retreat exercises, with the Rev. Robert J. Welch, assistant chaplain of the Newman Club at the State University of Iowa, as retreat master. The Rev. John M. Gregory, chaplain of the Catholic student center at Iowa State Teachers College, led the off-campus students in their retreat exercises held in Christ the King Chapel. A temporary altar was set up in which the Blessed Sacrament was reposed for the duration of the retreat that the group assigned to the gym might have an opportunity to make visits and meditations.

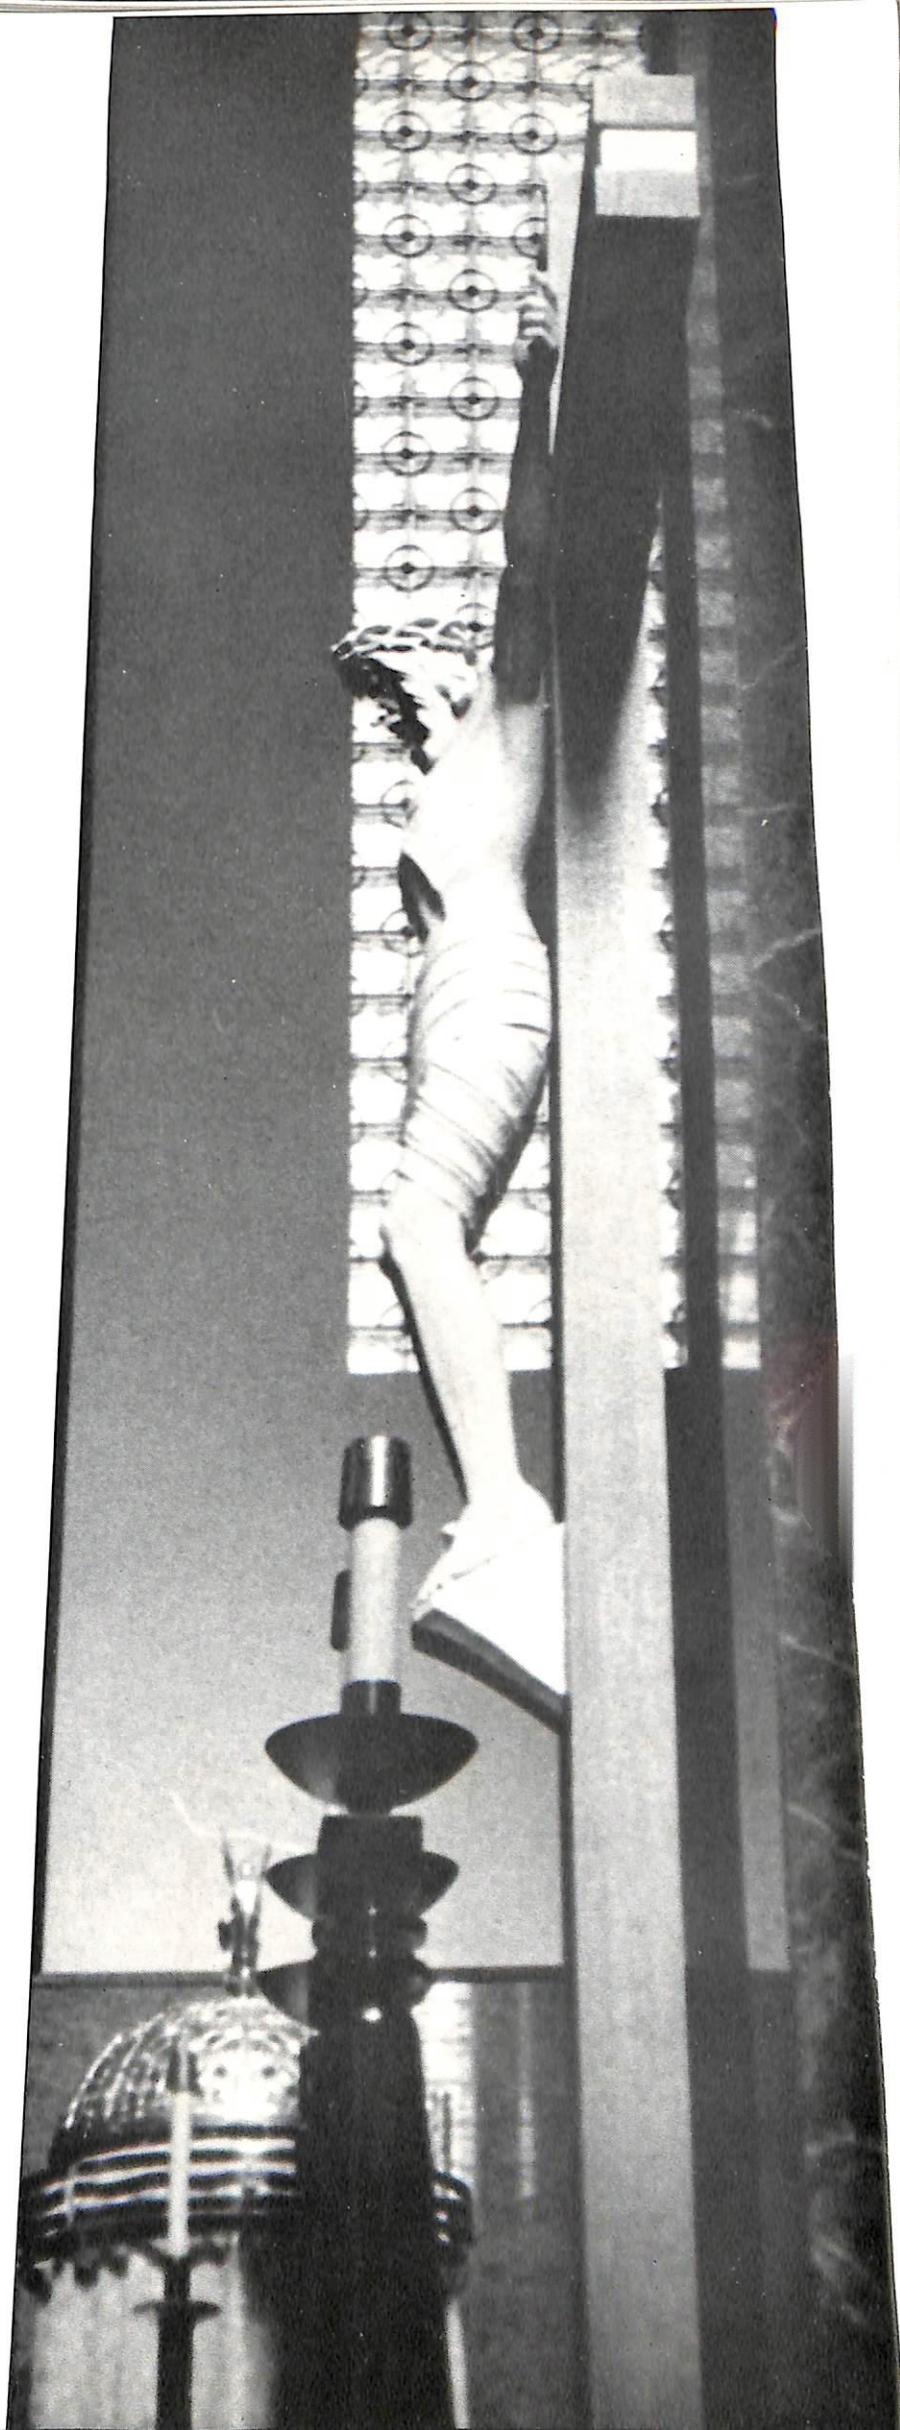

The retreat for the North Hall seminarians began on Tuesday, March 5, in the North Hall chapel, and continued until Sunday, March 10. Retreat master for this group was the Rev. Felix F. Talbot, S.J., who is presently stationed at Campion Hall, North Andover, Mass.

The residents of Smyth Hall began their retreat on Tuesday evening, March 5, and concluded on March 9. Retreat master for Smyth Hall retreatants was the Rev. R. M. Scullion, O.P., Master of Studies at the House of Studies, in River Forest, Illinois.

During the entire retreat there was spiritual reading in the cafeteria and everyone cooperated in keeping the silence, long a tradition among Lorasmen. These factors contributed greatly to the general success of the retreat.

TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON

John E. Wright struggles against a persistent Roberta Coutant, Clarke, in an effort to retain his shoes. Roberta, seen in the play as Lotus Blossom, prefers carpet slippers.

The Loras Players presentation of John Patrick's adaptation of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" was given March 3-5 in the auditorium of St. Joseph's Hall.

Appearing in the cast of this delightful comedy were: John Wright as Captain Fisby, the serious, but understanding army captain sent to indoctrinate the people of the village of Tobiki, Okinawa, in the ways of democracy; Thomas Higgins as Sakini, Captain Fisby's interpreter; and Thomas Ryan as Colonel Purdy, an often frustrated army man who makes liberal use of signs. Roberta Coutant, Dubuque and Clarke, was seen at Lotus Blossom, the beautiful geisha girl sent to wait on Fisby. Playing Colonel Purdy's secretary was John Hayes, with James Duncan as Captain McLean, the army psychiatrist, sent to Tobiki to check on Fisby but who ends up completely engrossed in the gardening aspects of Tobiki.

Lucian Buscaglia was cast as Seiki, a native who tries to win Lotus Blossom's love, with William J. Walker as a wise old citizen of Tobiki. Rosanne Vitullo portrayed Higa Jiga, the native leader of the "Ladies League for Democratic Action" on Tibiki.

Others in the cast included: John Croker, Neil Brown, Michael Kim, Robert Nakishima, James Clark, Dora Lam, Cecilia Lee, Cathy Hsu, Thomas Reynolds and Lynn Ann Knopp.

The play was staged and directed by the Rev. Karl G. Schroeder, assisted by the Revs. Kenneth Downing and Kenneth Lukan.

LORAS PLAYERS

DIAL "M" FOR MURDER

Donald J. Kraut, left, as Tony Wendice, cleverly evades the questioning of Arthur S. Cook, playing the amateur detective in "Dial 'M'."

The Loras College Players opened their forty-sixth stage season with Frederick Knott's mystery thriller, "Dial 'M' for Murder," under the direction of Rev. Karl G. Schroeder, director of dramatics.

The play was presented November 4, 5, and 6, 1956, in Saint Joseph's Auditorium. The cast consisted of Mary Catherine Blake, who played the part of Margot Wendice, the intended victim of her husband's plot to murder her; Arthur Cook played Max Halliday, a detective fiction writer and old friend of the family who helps to uncover the murder plot. Donald Kraut portrays Tony Wendice, the husband who conceives the plan to murder his wife for insurance money.

John Hayes had the role of the hired killer, Captain Legate, who ended up the victim with a scissors in his back. Inspector Hubbard's role was handled by John Williams. In this role, the Inspector is the crafty Scotland Yard detective who investigates the attempted murder and its disastrous results. William Walker portrayed Thompson, with Thomas Higgins playing Williams, two detectives also working on the case.

The Rev. Kenneth Downing was scene designer and the Rt. Rev. George N. Schulte served as technical advisor.

The two conspirators, Donald J. Kraut, and John P. Hayes, as Lesgate, shake hands after plotting the murder of Kraut's wife.

Barbara Bernoudy, as Fiona McLaren, looks over some fine Scottish cloth offered by Dennis M. Martin, center, with Dennis M. O'Brien, right, as the other potential buyer.

A. Donald Kropp and Karen Morrow join voices in a hearty duet from "Brigadoon."

BRIGADOON

James E. Fee, cast as Tommy Albright, sings his love to the village lassie, Barbara Bernoudy.

Set in a background of authentic Scottish burrs, plaids, and bagpipes, the Loras Players presented the Alan Jay Lerner-Frederick Loewe musical comedy, "Brigadoon," May 5-12. This play was selected as a fitting follow-up to last year's outstanding effort, "Annie Get Your Gun."

The Rev. Karl G. Schroeder was the director of "Brigadoon," and for the third successive year the Eugene Loring Dancers of Hollywood were featured in the annual spring musical. Choreographer for the show was Mr. Loring, and the Rev. Jerald F. Blackburn was the musical director.

"Brigadoon" tells in story, music, and dance, the tale of two American men who wander into a Scottish village. This unique town come to life for only one day every hundred years and then vanishes into the mist for another century. During his visit at Brigadoon Tommy Albright, played by James Fee, Cedar Rapids senior, falls in love with a village lassie, Fiona McLaren, portrayed by Barbara Bernoudy, a Clarke College junior from Chicago.

Tommy and his companion, Jeff Douglas, played by Wayne Rauch, a Dubuque junior, have a choice of either staying in the magic village forever with their sweethearts or returning to the modern world. One of the Loring dancers played Jean McLaren, and Karen Morrow, a Clarke junior, was cast in the role of Meg Brockie. David Lorenz, a Dubuque resident, portrayed Charley Dalrymple. Patrick Hayes, a Chicago junior, played the part of Sandy Dean, and Robert Mashek, a Calmar, Iowa junior, was MacGregor.

"Brigadoon's" action moves through an inventive blending of romance, comedy and excitement with such songs as "Almost Like Being in Love," "Heather on the Hill," "Come to Me, Bend to Me" and "From This Day On."

GLEE CLUB

The Loras Glee Club, having undergone extensive revisions this year, was given a new constitution. New officers were elected and the constitution was formally adopted at the first meeting of the Glee Club. Officers elected were: Bob Mashek, president; Paul Petry, vice-president; and Bill Friel, secretary-treasurer. The Rev. J. F. Blackburn is the director and moderator of the club.

Making its first appearance at the Christmas Band Concert, they presented a "Salute to Music" and a group of Christmas melodies in a modern style. They also performed for the high school seniors on College Day, serving to entertain and acquaint the visiting seniors with a pleasant side of life at Loras.

On April 7, the group gave its annual spring concert in St. Joseph Auditorium. Featured were such popular numbers as Richard Rodger's "This Nearly Was Mine" and "Malaguena." This guest soloist at the Glee Club concert was Jeffery Wolfe, tenor from Chicago, Illinois. Mr. Wolfe sang several numbers with the Glee Club as well as two groups of solo selections.

The Rev. J. F. Blackburn directs the Glee Club in its appearance at Christmas Band concert.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL

One of the most active yet least beard of organizations on campus is the St. Vincent de Paul Society. The Rev. Cyril Reilly is the club's moderator. The members of this society, led by their officers, Frank Palmer, president; Pat Best, vice-president; Thomas Ryan, secretary; and Richard Keil, treasurer, perform many charitable tasks, such as visiting the three old people's homes in the Dubuque area every Sunday, fulfilling their club's purpose of giving spiritual and social aid to the aged. The members of the society bring cigarettes, tobacco, and current magazines to the old people, and mingle with them, helping to brighten their day.

One of this year's highlights was a Christmas Party, held at the Dubuque County Poor Farm, where they presented a holiday skit. A new feature this year is the discussion of the liturgy at the meetings, and then the effort to apply the results of these discussions to the members' every-day lives.

Joseph Bueb, Thomas Ryan, John Wright, and Dave Beauvais were among this year's members. In addition, Phil Conway, Fred Fangman, and Frank Reid were active in all of the functions of the society. Completing the membership were Bob Willhite, Michael Walsh, and Denis Kuennen.

Y. C. S.

The YCS group, or Young Christian Students, is an organization on campus whose members have one major aim: to help their fellow students in every way they can.

Their method of accomplishing this end is relatively simple. First of all they recognize that baptism has united us all under Christ, Who gave us His life and the mission to follow in His footsteps. Secondly, they attempt to find a way to let this truth permeate and transform their own student life at Loras. Thirdly, they try to promote this Christ-centered outlook on life and, by example, make it the center of our activity on campus.

In order to make Christ more real to themselves, they spend the first fifteen minutes of their weekly meetings in discussion of a passage from the Gospels.

The second part of their meeting consists of what in the lay apostolate is called "Social Inquiry." This process begins with a report, which is followed by discussion, and finally, the members reach a decision on some problem of college life. Here the group follows the world-famous Jocist technique: observe, find a real problem on campus; judge, apply the mind of Christ to this problem, and act, putting Christian principles into operation.

The members of the YCS group this year were: James Freiburger, Terrance Hogan, Dennis Schmitz, Alan Eberhardt, Robert Pommerich, Thomas Onan, Philip McClean, and Michael O'Connor. The organization was directed by the Rev. Cyril Reilly, faculty moderator.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

One of the oldest traditions in the college is the John Joseph Keane Oratorical Contest, which is divided into three main groups. The first is held in the individual speech classes, with the winners of this competition going to the semi-finals, held this year on March 17.

From this group ten men are chosen as finalists, and compete for top honors. On March 24 Donovan Ochs, freshman from Charles City, Iowa, took first place, meriting the Rev. Harry Long trophy. This is the second year for the trophy, with the first presentation made in 1956.

Thomas Chumbley, Des Moines, Iowa freshman, captured second place in the contest and for his efforts was awarded the second-place medal. Third place went to Gene Gaertner, freshman from Chester, Illinois, and received the medal for that placing.

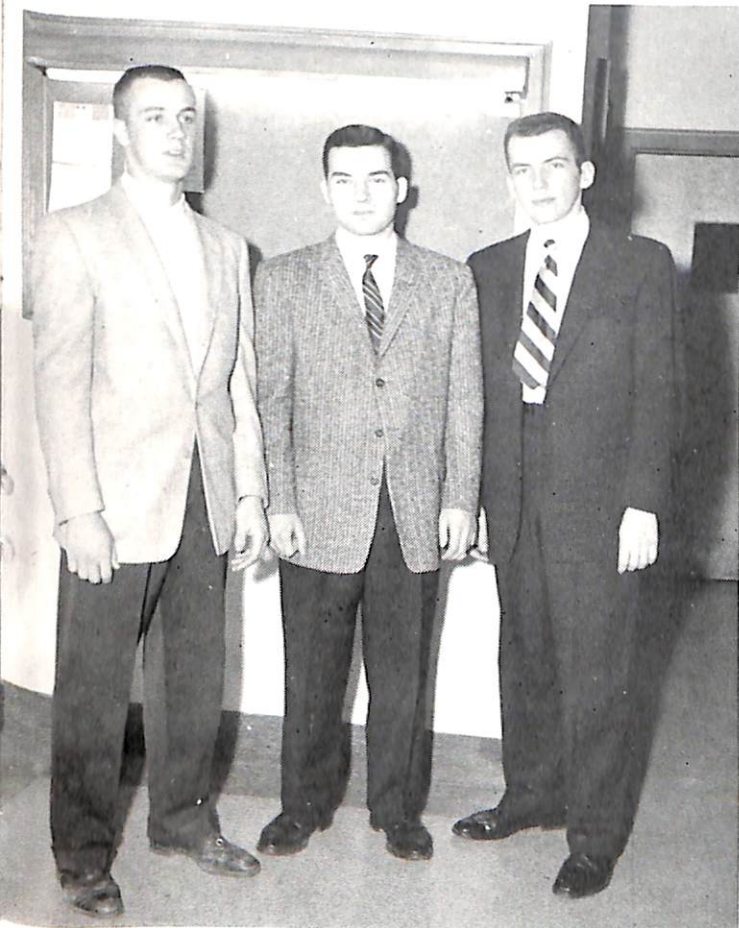

In addition to their awards, the winners have their names entered in the commencement honors, and are read on that day. They also are admitted to the forensics group, by merit of their placings.

Judge for the contest was The Rt. Rev. Msgr. George A. Stemm, former speech professor at Loras, now pastor at St. Anthony's parish, Dubuque, Iowa.

PRAYERLEADERS

The Loras students have continued the old Loras tradition of saying morning and night prayers together in all of the resident hall chapels. The prayers are led by a group of students who have the ability to project their voices throughout the chapel distinctly. This worthy job goes without much recognition and very often unnoticed by most of the students. However, it is a most necessary part of the morning and evening devotions.

These leaders spend much time and effort to perfect their job to transform mere words into a specially fine type of devotion. They will certainly receive their reward for this work many times in heaven.

The students who held the positions of prayer leaders in Keane Hall this year were Miles Conway, Bill Leonard and Lucien Buscaglia. David Shaw led the pre-Dominicans in Smyth Hall and Paul Koch and Francis Ryan were responsible for leading the pre-clerical students of North Hall.

Loras-Harvard Debate

This season was the first in which the forensics squad had two separate teams, formed primarily to give the freshmen and younger debaters enough experience for future debates.

The "A" squad, more experienced men, consisted of Thomas Doran, Stephen Voelz, Roger Linnan, and James Jensen. Wilfred Ament, Donovan Ochs, John Purtell, and Patrick Best were the four debaters forming the "B" squad.

Mr. Vaughn Gayman, moderator and director of the forensics team, placed heavy emphasis on developing younger men for future meets, and used freshmen and sophomores in many of this year's debate sessions. The Northwestern University novice tournament, newly organized this year, offered excellent opportunities for the "novice" Loras debaters.

Another new tournament, at Eau Claire College, was attended by the "A" team, who also competed at the tournament at Notre Dame, Indiana, while both "A" and "B" squads competed in the Bradley Invitational Tournament. The "B" team also saw action at the University of Iowa in one of the bigger tourneys of the year.

Thomas Doran was awarded top oratorical honors at Bradley, with over 57 colleges competing. The annual Loras-Harvard debate closed the season on April 6.

CURIA

Included in the Curia, are, left to right: Front row, Duane J. Weiland, Richard G. Wagner, Thomas J. Rudolph, Helmut J. Schweiger, Donald J. Ochs, James R. Sullivan, Robert B. Hoffman and Frank S. Palmer. Second row, Denis N. Kuennen, John C. Paisley, Paul M. Koch, Dale J. Soppe, James T. Stessman, John Jude Smith, Joseph E. Naumann, John J. Fialka and the Rev. Kenneth Downing, moderator. Back row, Arthur T. Walker, Edward F. Mullen, Robert J. Mulligan, Richard P. Kurt, Ralph Simington, John J. Purtell, Patrick C. Runde, Warren O. Werner, James W. Kiernan and Daniel A. Hemesath.

The Loras College Curia is one of the less publicized clubs at Loras and yet one of the most active. The Curia was founded upon the belief that experience at extemporaneous speaking would be most useful to students after graduation in their participation in civic organizations, their business or their professional work. Its name was taken from the Roman senate house, the Curia, and is dedicated to place orators in the world as eloquent as the ancient Romans.

The Curia has been carrying out a most rigorous schedule of meetings, discussions and practice speaking programs. For this reason the Curia has limited their club to students showing a great interest in speaking and a sincere desire to improve their speaking techniques. During the year, every member is given a chance to speak on a topic of his choice to the group.

An informal initiation of new members and the annual picnic at Eagle Point Park were the high points of this year for the thirty members of the Curia. These two events, which were molded into the regular bi-monthly schedule of meetings afforded the chance for the members to relax and achieve the entertainment aspect of the organization's two-fold aim.

Any Curia business is conducted according to parliamentary procedure under the supervision of the parliamentarian, Paul Koch. The Curia functions under the direction of the Rev. J. Kenneth Downing, moderator. James Stessman served as president, John Jude Smith as vice-president and Dale Soppe as the secretary-treasurer.

S.I.S.E.A. LEADERS

The Student Iowa State Education Association is composed of a group of men who are planning to become teachers, and has been formed for the dual purpose of promoting a better pre-professional attitude among these men, and for acquainting them with the duties and responsibilities which will be theirs when they are teachers.

The officers of S.I.S.E.A. for this year were Martin Pfab, president and Ray Kehm, vice-president. Sam Cordaro acted as treasurer, and Mark Hemesath was the secretary. These men worked under the direction of Mr. Anton Slechticky, who was the moderator again this year.

The members of S.I.S.E.A. attended the Fall Regional Meeting, held at Ellsworth Junior College. The topic of this meeting was "Fun," which meant learning to make the most of recreational programs, and learning how to mix the students together so that they can get to know one another. During the winter months the S.I.S.E.A. conducted a tutoring system on the Loras campus, which was designed to aid those freshmen who were in need of such help in their subjects, and whose professors indicated the need of such a service for them.

At the meetings which were held on the Loras campus there were slides shown and several guest speakers were invited. At one of the meetings Mr. Johannsen spoke about his experiences in the guidance program at Washington Junior High School in Dubuque, explaining the counseling and guidance programs to the members.

At the regional meeting which was held at Upper Iowa University Marty Pfab was elected to the office of regional vice-president. In this capacity he will be a representative to the state meeting of S.I.S.E.A., instead of a delegate from Loras College.

THE HISTORY CLUB

The History Club, an organization designed to encourage interest in history is now in its second year on the campus. Its first order of business during the year was electing officers. Verne Stapenhorst, Hospers, Iowa, senior, was elected president, and Eugene Murphy, senior from Chicago, Ill., was chosen as vice-president. The other two executive officers were filled by John Burke, a Sterling, Ill., senior, who served as secretary, and Paul Vaassen, a senior from Hazel Green, Wis., was this year's treasurer.

THE ENGINEERS CLUB

A new organization on campus this year, the Engineers Club, was established with a threefold purpose in mind. First, it was organized to provide a group that would unite the engineering students at Loras. Secondly, this club has been formed to present, in an informal way, professional men, usually local engineers, to the members of the club. The Engineers Club proposes, as its third purpose, to give the engineering student more information concerning his chosen field. This group presents to its members information regarding the various phases of engineering, thus enabling them to know more about their careers.

The aims of the Engineers Club are achieved through its meetings, at which a guest speaker is presented, followed by a question and answer period, and through the yearly field trip. Movies are shown at the meetings. This year's field trip was to the Argonne National Laboratories.

The officers for this year are George Howie, Jackson, Miss., president; Leon Lammers, Dyersville, Iowa, vice-president; James Wells, Grundy Center, Iowa, secretary; Duane Haag, Thompson, Iowa, treasurer. The Engineers Club was initiated and organized on the Loras campus by the Very Rev. Leroy Engler, who is now the group's moderator.

According to Mr. Robert L. Brady, the moderator of the club, the goal for this year was to join the national honor society, Phi Alpha Theta, for faculty members and students interested in history.

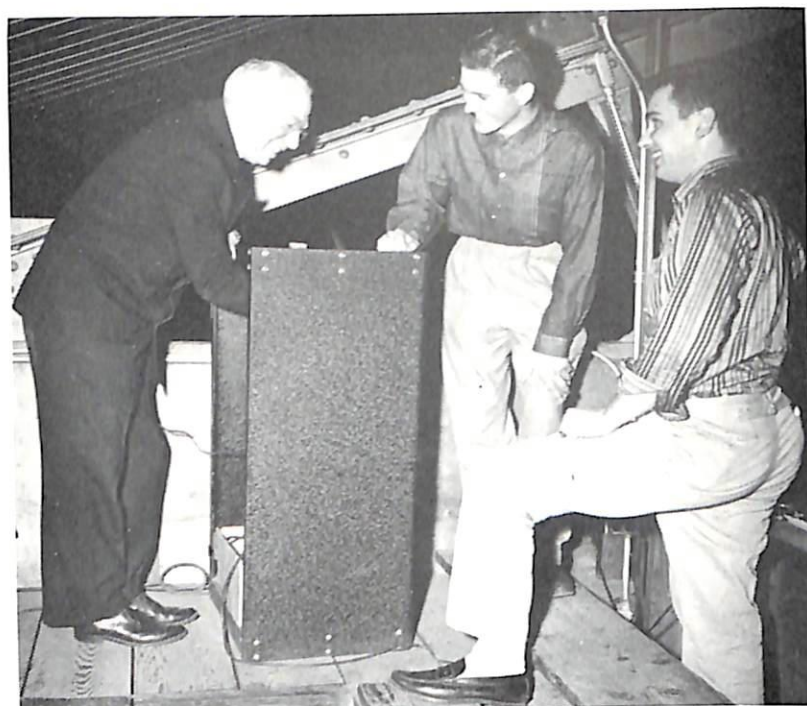

This club, which is open for membership to all junior and senior history majors, included in its program guest speakers, debates on political issues, travelogues, and a field trip. Non-fictional books, preferably current historical books, were urged as reading material for the members.

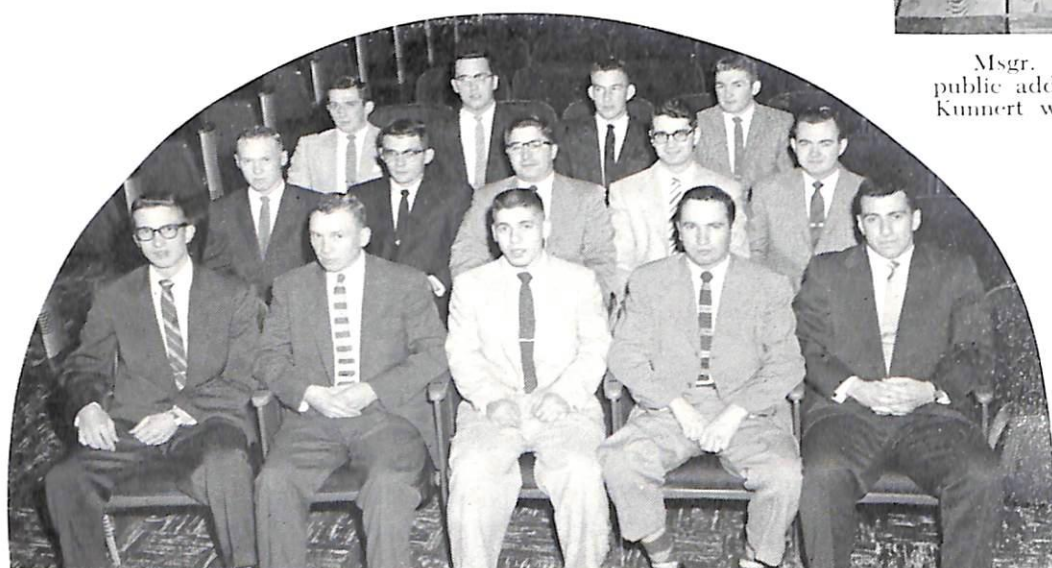

The newly-formed Engineers Club above, left to right: front row, Jay P. Kopp, Robert J. Barry, Leon A. Lammers, George S. Howie, president, and the Very Rev. L. J. Enzler, moderator. Second row, John E. Necker, Thomas W. Freiburger, Thomas J. Lowenburg and James R. McInerney. Third row, James L. Wells, secretary-treasurer, Richard J. Komp, Louis A. O'Connor, Robert L. Melan, Robert E. Kauth and J. Neil Stessman. Back row, Thomas D. Lynch, Duane O. Haag, John P. Gundermann, Melvin J. Holubar, James E. Johnson, William J. Lightcap and Robert H. Hauge.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM AND USHERS

Msgr. George Schulte makes final adjustments to the public address equipment as Joe O'Hara, center, and Dick Kunnert watch hopefully.

The ushers shown left are, left to right, front row, Dennis H. Steffen, Arthur L. Loecke, Frank S. Palmer, John R. McClintock, co-head, and Samuel J. Cordaro. Second row, Raymond B. Loecke, Loyde C. Patterson, Gerald L. Zeman, James A. Sullivan and James W. Flanagan. Third row, Martin W. Pfab, co-head, Ralph Simington, John J. Fangman and Larry J. Welte.

A club that does much for the college, yet is taken for granted, is the Loras Ushers Club. The men in this organization spend as much time attending all of the functions of the college, from sports events to symphonies, as anyone else on the campus. In addition, when the men of the Ushers Club attend these various functions, they do not simply sit back and enjoy them; they take tickets, hand out programs, make sure people are seated properly, and act as a sort of police force to keep everyone in line. They must be ready to act in any emergency, for it is to them that people look for aid whenever anything goes wrong.

The Loras ushers have to be on the job for plays, all sporting events, both indoors and out, tournaments, forums, speeches, and anywhere else they are needed. The co-leaders of the group are Marty Pfab and John McClintock. This is the fourth year of service in the Ushers Club for McClintock. In all there are fourteen members of the club, a rather small group, considering the enormity of their undertaking.

Among the multiple duties of these men are the responsibilities of pleasing all of the people with whom they come in contact, since they are representatives of Loras College, and just being around, giving a sense of security to those who attend the events to which the ushers are assigned. This is a large order, which is filled in a large way by the Loras Ushers Club, under the direction of their moderator, the Rev. Eugene C. Kutsch.

Around every school it seems there are certain little groups performing some specialized job without fanfare or publicity, simply in order to be of service to their fellow students. Loras is no exception in this regard, and one of these groups in the small band of students who run the public address system announcing and arranging sound equipment for events from the wrestling meets to the graduation ceremonies.

The voice usually heard at the sports events belongs to Dick Kunnert, a Dubuque junior. The student that usually operates the sound equipment is Joe O'Hara, a junior from Marshalltown, Iowa. The entire operation is directed by Msgr. George N. Schulte, the head of the Chemistry department.

Aside from these men, other help is called in at unusually busy times, such as the Archdiocesan Basketball Tournament, to help with the announcing. These men certainly constitute a very busy and useful organization, and render a valuable service to the rest of the College.

LITERARY CLUB

Members of the Literary club, newly formed on the Loras campus, pictured above include, left to right: seated, Mr. Francis Lehner, moderator; Robert W. Mashek, and Mr. John Abraham, guest speaker for the evening of the picture. In the back row are Gary A. Culver, Harold M. Isbell, Carl L. Schmitt, Paul M. Koch, Joseph E. McHugh, James T. Stessman, Richard J. Kauth, James L. Huston and Daniel E. Lyons.

NEW CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Spanish Club was newly formed this year when the need was felt for a club to present the opportunity for Spanish students to practice speaking Spanish and for the furthering of relations between the United States and our Spanish speaking neighbors. The club also has discussions and lectures on the customs and backgrounds of the Central and South American peoples to gain a better understanding of them. The club is open only to junior and senior Spanish students attending Loras.

The Spanish Club is especially known for its Pan American Day Fiesta, April 14. On this day, one hears many Spanish phrases being used on the campus, such as "Caramba!", "Como esta usted?" and "Buents Dias!". The club presented many singing, dancing and comedy acts, finishing up the program with a Spanish Travelogue movie.

In May, the club had their annual picnic at Eagle Point Park to round out the year's activities.

The officers of the club were Victor Ramaeker, president; Brendan Heintz, secretary; and Mario Abate, treasurer. The moderator of the club was Mr. Wilfred Johanssen, professor of Spanish.

The Literary Club has completed its second year of successful operation on the Loras College campus. This is one of the many relatively new clubs at Loras which are contributing to the renewed interest in campus activities. The Literary Club has been formed primarily for the study and analysis of the literature of today. The group aids its members in selecting the best reading material available, and increases the appreciation of good literature that every member should have from the beginning.

In its meetings, the Literary Club holds discussions, and also presents a varied format, including phonograph recordings of readings by modern poets, in addition to some Shakespearean plays. The club also invites guest speakers to its meetings, and occasionally the members of the club informally present one-act plays for the entertainment of the other members.

The Literary Club concentrates primarily on modern authors, such as Steinbeck, Hemingway, Greene, and many others in their field. This, in conjunction with the study of Shakespearean plays and modern poetry, serves to introduce the members of the Literary Club to virtually every phase of modern literature, and gives them an acquaintance with some of the older, established classic writings. All of these objectives under the leadership of Mr. Francis C. Lehner.

SPANISH CLUB

ECONOMICS ASSOCIATES

This year a rather unique club was formed on the Loras Campus, along the lines of a business in its organization and activities. Three trustees form the Executive Board which directs all activities of the association. These trustees are appointed annually and the chairmanship rotates bi-monthly. The organization is limited to junior and senior economics and business administration majors.

The primary purpose of this organization is to discuss subjects pertaining to economics accomplished by a series of field trips to business institutions throughout the Midwest. This past year the Associates visited the Argonne National Atomic Energy Laboratory, Lemont, Illinois; American Trust and Savings Bank, Dubuque; Commonwealth Edison Electric Utility Company, Chicago; Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, Chicago; Board of Trade and Lamson Brothers (Investment Brokers), Dubuque.

The trustees of the Associates this year were John D. Roethle, Richard D. Collins and James B. Cain. The moderator of this association is the Rev. Edmund A. Kurth.

COMMERCE CLUB

The Commerce Club, which was started in 1953, has as its purpose to help foster mutual interest among the economics and accounting majors. This club is open to all upperlevel commerce, accounting and economics students.

Under the leadership of Richard L. O'Brien, Ryan, Iowa, president, the club has as activities fields trips to a number of larger industries and institutions in Dubuqueland. It also has guest speakers come to the regular meetings and lecture on the accounting field and other related fields. One of the field trips by the 32 Commerce Club members this year was a trip to the First National Bank in Dubuque, Iowa.

Other officers of the club are Harold B. McCarthy, Harvard, Illinois, vice-president, and Leo A. Ruggle, Perry, Iowa, secretary.

1957 PURGOLD

This book was produced through the efforts of a comparatively small group of men headed by the editor-in-chief, Leo Ruggle. He was ably assisted in his job by an editorial staff consisting of five men, including: Norb Norpel, assistant editor in charge of layouts; Michael Ambrose, assistant editor in charge of copy; Al Eberhardt, business manager; Joe Naumann, sports editor; and Dave Shaw, art editor.

Some of the feature writers for this year's Purgold were Leo McNaney, William Becvar, Gerald Sieren, Eugene Mathews, Neal Moran, J. Raymond Kehm, John Burke, James Flanagan, Marty Pfab, John Roethle and John Sullivan.

In the production of the Purgold there were necessarily many jobs which had to be done before it could go to press. These miscellaneous tasks were handled by William Francione, James Mantoan, Michael Barnes and Thomas Hynes.

The pictures which are so important to a yearbook were taken chiefly by Norb Norpel, who was assisted by Al Benavides and Al Etteldorf.

These are the men who have made this book possible. Their contributions ranged from some who wrote just a single story to others who spent long hours in the news bureau completing the many other tasks necessary to bring you this book, the 1957 Purgold.

THE SPOKESMAN

Loras Literary Quarterly

The Spokesman is the literary quarterly of Loras College. It is now in its fifty-fourth year of successful publication. This year saw four fine issues devoted to a wide range of literary endeavor, extending from light humor and familiar essays to serious stories and poetry.

Such a publication is not easily composed, and the end result is the culmination of the efforts of the men in all its departments, as well as students in the Creative Writing class. Faculty members also contribute to the journal, and the winners of the various literary contests are rewarded by having their compositions printed here, too. Each issue features guest writers from outside the college; among these authors last year were Riley Hughes, Thomas P. McDonnell, and Sister M. Therese, S.D.S.

The Spokesman moderator is the Rev. Raymond Roseliep. The editor is Jim Stessman; Vic Ramaecker is the assistant to the editor; and Ray Lenahan is the art editor. The business manager is Al Eberhardt, and Carl Schmitt serves as circulation manager.

Spokesman staff members have won national and state recognition for their poetry.

Carl Schmitt was the only Loras contestant to merit a place in America Sings, an anthology of college verse published by the National Poetry Association, Los Angeles. His contribution was entitled "Down Garden Ways."

In a contest sponsored by the Iowa Poetry Association, Carl Schmitt won first prize with his sonnet, "Martyrology by Lamplight." Dennis Schmitz won second prize with "In Memoriam: July 1956." Honorable mention was given to poems by Dennis Cambridge and Jim Stessman. Twenty Iowa colleges competed in the contest. The poems will be published in the anthology, Lyrical Iowa.

EDITOR

Editor Daniel E. Lyons and his well worn typewriter.

The Lorian, which was selected to receive All-Catholic honors for its 1956-57 efforts, is a bi-weekly publication which serves the students and faculty by giving news of special happenings, reviews of college plays, lectures, and concerts, complete intramural and varsity sports' coverage, as well as the many news items that are published during the year.

With Dan Lyons, senior from Chicago, as editor of the Lorian, this newspaper has factually and clearly reported the news of the college. Such features as student polls and special articles on the various campus organizations have led to increased reader interest and the continued popularity of the Lorian.

This year's staff, consisting of 28 men, headed by editor-in-chief Dan Lyons, published fourteen issues during the 1956-57 school year. The editor had three assistant editors helping him: Dick Walczak, make-up editor; Joe Dragonette, sports editor; and Cy Potts, intramural editor. Al Eberhardt was the business manager, and Joe Nauman assumed the position of circulation manager. No newspaper is complete without photographs, and this end of the publication was ably taken care of by Norb Norpel.

To provide proper leadership for the editorial staff, and to establish the editorial policy of the Lorian, a moderator is necessary. This job was assumed by Mr. John P. Page, assistant director of public relations.

The Lambda Kappa Chapter of the National Service Fraternity has been very active on the Loras campus during the past school year. It has carried out its dedication, "To assemble college friendship and to promote service to humanity."

A.P.O. started its activities for this year when the incoming freshmen came for a week of orientation. The emblem of A.P.O. was seen around the campus by all the new students through registration, etc. The fraternity was again very much in evidence during the Homecoming when its members decorated the front of Keane Hall. Another day on which A.P.O. members and pledges alike worked vigorously was Parents' Day. The Lambda Kappa members were seen everywhere from the parking lot to the registration table in the gym. A.P.O., under its faculty adviser, Rev. Edmund A. Kurth, has also had very successful mixers. During this past year A.P.O. has tried to aid the Hungarian Relief Program by collecting clothes and donations from the student body.

In keeping up with its motto "... to promote service to humanity ..." the city of Dubuque has also seen A.P.O. in action. One of their major undertakings has been the Big Brothers program at St. Mary's Home. Each year a group of A.P.O. members get little brothers from the home which they try to help as much as they can. The fraternity also assisted at a prospective sponsors meeting for scout troops in the local area.

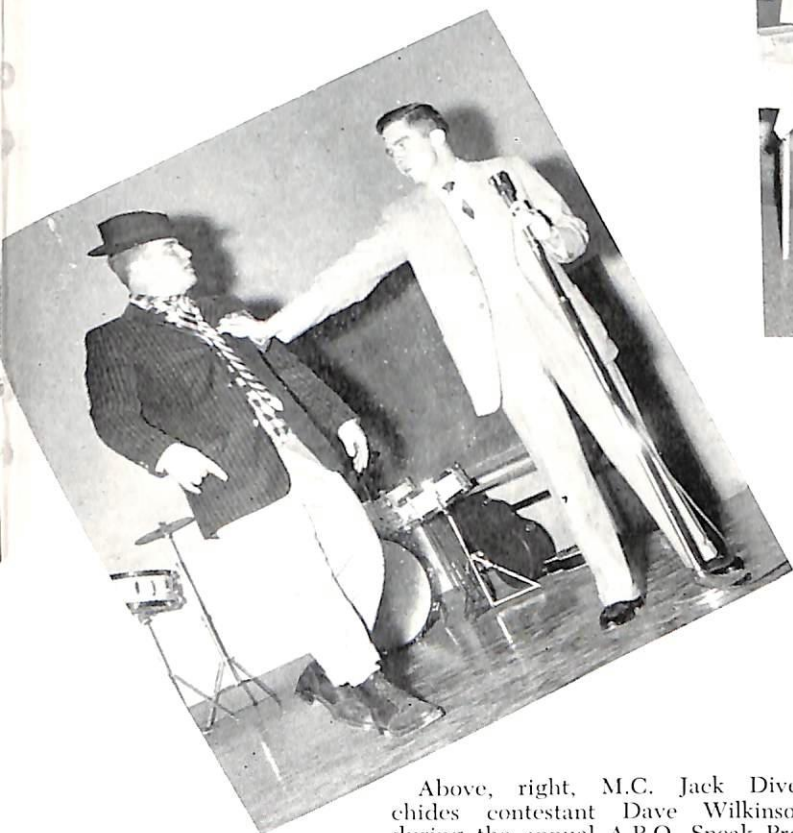

A.P.O. is led by president Raymond J. Larocca, a junior. The vice-presidents are David P. Wilkenson and Lucian C. Buscaglia, both juniors. Thomas H. Hansen was made recording secretary. He is also a junior.

In addition to these Raymond A. Kehm is corresponding secretary, James B. Cain, former president, is the Alumni secretary, and John E. Diver is treasurer. The historian is Donald S. Crowley and the sargeant-at-arms is Joseph B. Carney.

Pledges are inducted by a special ceremony presided over by the moderator and members of A.P.O. After having completed a period of pledgship and passing a written examination and being accepted by the members of A.P.O., they are taken into the fraternity.

Officers

This year the Loras College Student Senate operated under a new system of representation. In past years representatives to the Student Senate had been elected from each class by each of the groups living on-campus, and by the men living off-campus. This procedure was followed again this year, but with more representatives being selected. Thirty-six were named to the Student Senate this year under the new system of proportional representation, one senator for every fifty students in the college.

Another innovation this year was the opening of the Student Senate meetings to the general public. Senate meetings were posted on the bulletin boards, and anyone interested could attend the meetings. This contributed greatly to student interest in the school government, and provided a much better method for the opinions and complaints of the students to make themselves heard. The open meeting concerning formal dress as opposed to informal dress for the Spring Prom drew quite a large crowd, and was the culmination of the efforts on the part of the Student Senate to make its meetings more expressive of student sentiment.

Harry Smith was the president of the Student Senate at Loras this year, and James Jennings served as the vice-president. James Freiburger took the post of secretary-treasurer. The Rev. Eugene C. Kutsch was the faculty moderator.

THE STUDENT SENATE STORY

The Loras Student Senate is responsible for two of the most important social events of the year. The Homecoming weekend is handled by the Student Senate, as is the Spring Prom. In order to administer these activities effectively, and to insure that they come off without a hitch, it is necessary for the Student Senate to appoint two committees.

The first of these is the Decorating Committee, which is charged with the job of preparing the decorations for the Homecoming Dance and for the Spring Prom. Charles Goerdt was the chairman of this committee, and George Anton, Neal Brown, Mel Graham, Frank Meneghini, and John Roethle served with him on this committee. The Social Committee of the Student Senate was headed by chairman Bill Hyland, who was assisted by Jack Glunz, Jack Diver, Tom Hansen, Ray Larocca, and Mel Graham.

The 1956 Spring Prom was directed by the Student Senate social committee for that year, headed by Roman Gales, and including James Harrington, Leonard Ament, and Miles Conway. The theme of the prom was "La Printemps au Parée," which was carried out in the decorations and the general atmosphere of the entire dance.

The Homecoming weekend this year was permeated by the theme of the "Tommie Tromp," which was carried out in the decorations on all of the halls and in the decorations for the dance. This year North Hall took the competition for the best-decorated hall with an extravagant display of the "Victory Carrousel."

To choose the Homecoming queen, a committee was appointed by the Student Senate. This committee screened the candidates and chose six; four from Clarke College, one from Mercy School of Nursing, and one from the city of Dubuque. The Loras student body then voted on these six. Barb Duffy, Clarke sophomore, emerged victorious.

FOOTBALL SEASON

Seventeen returning lettermen, an eligible transferee and a bright crop of freshmen made up the components, as Coach Charlie Toole turned last fall to the task of injecting new life into Loras' dormant football fortunes. Before him lay the job of replacing the bulk of a line which had included such as Catholic college "Player of the Year" Bob Frommelt, and all-Catholic Midwest Charlie Montgomery, the usual fare of formidable opponents, and all in the midst of a major rebuilding program during which the Duhawks had accounted for only three victories in seventeen contests over the past two seasons.

When the final whistle had blown, the 1956 season record stood at 3 wins and 5 losses. While not an imposing record, it was nevertheless an improvement over the preceding year's 2-7 mark, and rays of promise came from elsewhere too. A new multiple offense—a spit-T and single wing combination—had sprung loose a potent passing attack, and in the final team statistics, the Duhawks fared better than the record indicates.

Injuries, costly fumbles and a sporadic defense cost the Loras eleven heavily, as they missed on two occasions to end the season with a .500 mark. The eight game schedule included a newcomer, Stout Institute, another which Loras had played only once 25 years before, Whitewater State, and an aggregation of regularly tough opponents including Lewis, St. Norbert, Luther, St. Ambrose, Platteville State and St. Thomas.

The Duhawks traveled to Whitewater, Wis., on Sept. 15 to meet Whitewater College in the football inaugural for both teams. After amassing a 12-0 lead during the first half, Whitewater matched Loras' only score in the third period with a pair of its own to whip the Duhawks, 25-6.

Two weeks later, in the Rock Bowl, Loras pulled a mild upset as they spilled the Lewis Flyers, 20-6, for their first win of the season. A sharp defense held Lewis' rushing attack to only 55 yards, as the Duhawks nailed the third loss of the campaign on the veteran Flyers.

Fumbles mixed with a powerful St. Norbert offense spelled out a one-sided defeat for Toole's gridders in their next contest, as the favored Green Knights registered an easy 32-9 triumph at West De Pere, Wis. Loras bobbles set up three touchdowns for the winners in the first half, and an intercepted pass resulted in another tally in the final period.

The Duhawks' next assignment was a game on the road against the Norsemen of Luther College. Scoring 23 points in the final stanza, Loras came from behind to spoil Luther's homecoming, 29-14, and even its season mark at 2 wins and 2 setbacks.

The annual battle for the Victory Bell with St. Ambrose was on tap the following weekend, as the Duhawks journeyed to Davenport for their third straight road tilt. In what turned out to be largely an aerial circus, the powerful Bees turned on the steam after an early 7-0 Loras lead, whomping the Duhawks 40-14.

The Platteville State Pioneers used extra points and a touchdown in the waning seconds to dump the Purple and Gold in their sixth match of the season, 41-31. The victory came at the expense of the Pioneers' rating as the nation's second best defensive team, as Loras piled up a total of 406 yards gained before admitting defeat.

Coach Toole got a chance to empty his bench a week later when Loras crushed Stout Institute 45-14 in the Rock Bowl. The Duhawks took command at the outset, and after rolling up a 27-7 halftime count, the substitutions began flowing continuously.

Homecoming lit up the Loras campus as the Duhawks prepared to face unbeaten St. Thomas in the season finale. But the fans had little to cheer about when game time rolled around as the Tommies moved out in front in the first period, increased the margin to 21-0 at the half, and tallied twice more in the third period to send Loras to its worst defeat of the 1956 campaign, 34-0. The Duhawks just couldn't match St. Thomas' versatile and blistering attack, as they got no further than the Tom's 41 yard line and that was in the last seven minutes of the game. With the final setback, Loras ended its season with a 3-5 record.

Multiple Offense

In the final statistics the effectiveness of Loras' new passing attack was most evident, as the Duhawks completed 76 aerials in 180 attempts that were good for a total yardage of 1167. Quarterback Bill Hession, returning after sitting out a season with a back injury, led the passing department with 37 completions in 93 tries for 670 yards and 5 scores. Reserve quarterback Jerry Brennan and halfback Jim Hogan threw a combined total of 5 touchdown passes.

Rushing-wise, Hogan led the Duhawk ground game with 231 yards in 58 carries for a 3.98 yards-per-carry average. As a team, Loras amassed 849 yards rushing while their opponents built up a total of 1404. The opposition's 759 yards via the air lanes gave them a slight 2163 total yards gained edge over the Duhawks, who finished with 2006.

End Dan Ahearn was the leading scorer on the Loras eleven, totaling 29 points in eight games.

Eighteen of his markers came by nabbing three TD passes, while the remaining 11 points were successful PAT attempts.

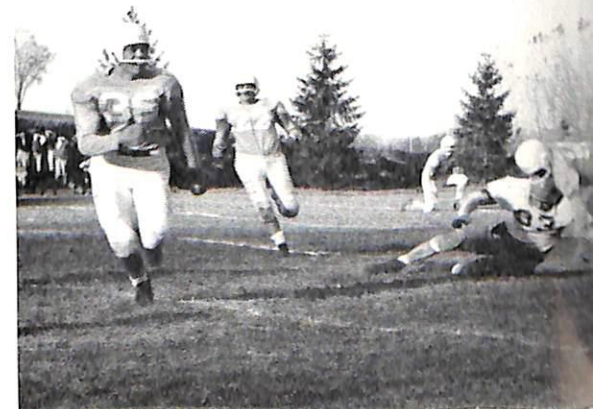

Loras did better than holds its own in first downs, chalking up 95 to the opponents' 94. In the scoring totals, where the important difference lies, the Duhawks were on the short end, 206-154.

At season's end, 26 were awarded major "L" monograms. They were: Jerry Hickey, Joe Mayer, Jerry Allen, Bill Leonard, Tom Vlaszek, Dennis Cambridge, Jim Ball, Ken Toth, Bill Hession, Len Speltz, Don Nachtman, Jerry Hanlon, Dan Ahearn, Jim Hogan, Jerry Brennan, Jack Lyons, Walter Cremin, Jim Op-pold, Bob Timmerman, Jack Zarate, Jim Murphy, T. ## Parents' Day

Over 900 fathers and mothers from as far away as Butte, Montana, made up the largest Parents' Day crowd ever entertained by Loras College in festivities on the campus this year. At this time parents were given an opportunity to look at Loras life, and take part in ceremonies held in their special honor. A new Greater Loras Parent Club was organized this year, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Ang Kerper of Dubuque.

At half-time of the Loras-Platteville football game, awards were presented to several of the honored guests. Mrs. Anne Hanlon, mother of co-captain Jerry Hanlon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Urban Mayer, parents of co-captain Joe Mayer were presented with special awards.

Mr. James C. Murphy of Butte, Montana, received a Loras blanket as the parent who had come the greatest distance, and Mr. and Mrs. William Fugate were honored as the parents with the most sons attending Loras. They have four sons now in school, a fifth having graduated in 1949.

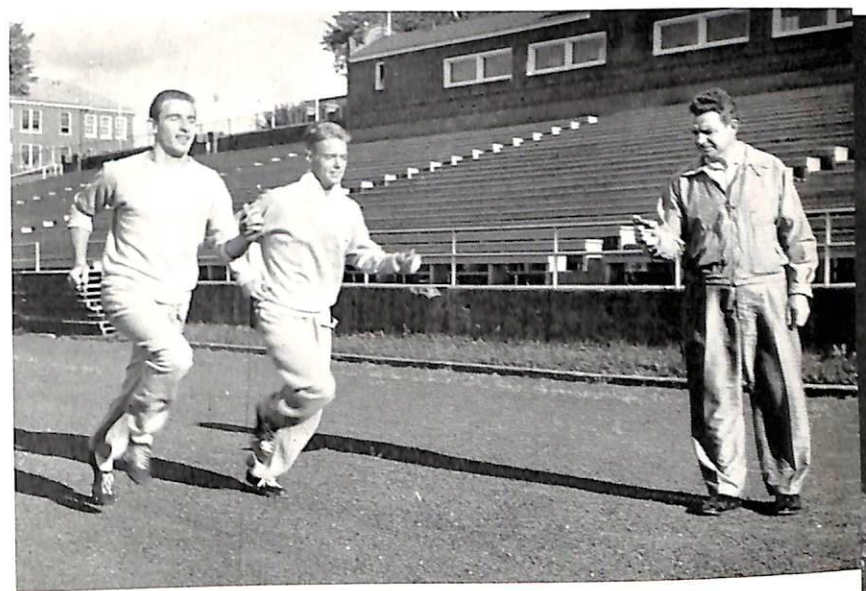

The Loras College cross-country team finished its third season at the college with a record of one win and five losses in dual meets and a fourth place in the Beloit College quadrangular.

Coach Jean Schneider's thinclads got off to a slow start as they dropped the first four of their dual meets, to La Crosse State, 26-29, ISTC, 17-38, Cornell, 35-32, and Beloit, 19-36, before they could get into the win column. Their victim was cross-town rival, the University of Dubuque, who fell before the Duhawk harriers by the score of 27-31. In the final meet of the season, Luther outran Loras to the tune of 25<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-30<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>.

Two returning lettermen, Bill Cisco and Mike O'Connor, lead the Duhawk harriers last fall. O'Connor, a sophomore, was the standout as he finished first in four duals, third in another and third in the 24-man field at Beloit. Other members of the squad were Jim Kuhn, Woody Wedemeyer, Mike Murphy, and Francis Grendler.

BASKETBALL SEASON

The 1956-57 basketball season marked the end of one of the longest hard-court combinations at the Hilltop in many years. Five seniors, three of whom had broken into the varsity lineup four years ago, and the other two as sophomores, closed out their careers as Duhawk cagers. Dick Wright, Cy Potts and Joe Ottavi had made the grade as frosh, and Fred May and Ed McMahon were on the scene shortly after. Over the years, individually and as a unit, they had met some of the college's roughest opposition, and had turned in top-flight performances to meet that challenge. While never achieving greatness as a team, their hustle, spirit and general ability provided Duhawk fans with an exciting brand of basketball, worthy of the Loras tradition. Following is an account of what they and the new faces in Coach Vince Dowd's cage machine accomplished this year: the 1956-57 Loras basketball season.

Dick Wright, who became the fifth Duhawk eager to score over 1000 points in four years, makes it look easy with a layup.

The 1956-57 basketball season was one of ups and downs for the Duhawk quintet. Well stocked with veterans and ably assisted by a pair of prize underclassmen, the team couldn't seem to jell long enough to get a winning streak going. After jumping off on the right foot with an opening win, the squad could make the winning column only sporadically until the final quarter of the season, when it racked up five victories in the last six encounters.

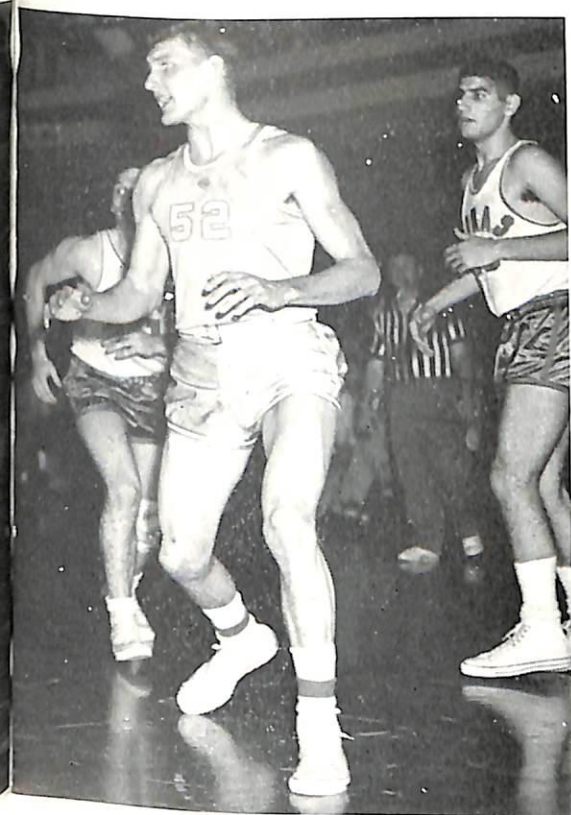

Along the road to posting their 11-15 record, the Duhawks managed to pull several upsets however, including a win over ISTC in their opener, La Crosse State in an overtime contest, and a double rout of arch-rival St. Ambrose.

The big story of course was forward Dick Wright, whose team-leading 439 points pushed him over the 1000 point mark for his career. His final 1098 total made him the fifth Duhawk coger in Loras history to top the magic mark. Wright's all-around play and teamwork also merited the vote by his teammates as most valuable player of the year. He finished with a 16.9 average for the season.

The find of the year of Coach Dowd was freshman Jack Frasco, who broke into the starting lineup in the season opener and stayed there. Playing at center to replace Al Carew who did not return last fall, the 6-5 youngster popped through 392 points for a 15.1 per game average, placing him in number two spot in the scoring parade. Frasco also claimed the highest single night performance with a 34 marker in a contest with Illinois Tech.

Cy Potts, a hard-charging and dependable guard, finished third in team scoring with a 10.6 average, and came closest to Wright's mark with a total of 963 points during his four years in a Loras uniform.

Jim Kenney, a junior, showed vast improvement and was a big asset to the club. Averaging 7 points a game, Kenney saw action in every tilt where his rebounding skill was clearly proven. Guard Joe Ottavi was a step off his usual performance this year, but his ball-handling ability and leadership were always up to par. Steady Ed McMahon at guard and Fred May, forward, turned in their usual good campaigns, averaging 8.1 and 7.4 points per game respectively. Guards Gene Potts and Bob Willhite and center Bill Rhomberg also saw considerable action.

The Duhawks got their season off with a bang as they took Iowa State Teachers College into camp in the Loras Fieldhouse by the score of 77-66. Frasco was the big gun in the Duhawk attack as he netted 18 points. Three nights later in Cedar Rapids, the defending Midwest Conference champions, Coe College, cashed in on free throws to hand Loras its first defeat, 76-63. Wright was hot with 21 markers, but the Duhawks were cool from the charity line, and that proved the difference.

which spelled defeat once again, this time by the score of 73-68. Loras came close to evening its record in the next battle, with the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, but after a 61-61 deadlock at the end of regulation time, Milwaukee turned on the steam and won going away, 77-70.

Returning to Dubuque for a three game home stand, the Duhawks suffered their fourth consecutive loss at the hands of Wartburg, 78-65. Frasco was high for the night with 21. St. Norbert was the next challenger, and although they put on a furious second half rally, Loras jelled to produce its second win of the season, 74-71. May topped the attack this time with 17 points. Free throw accuracy on the part of Platteville State and a brief letdown suffered by Loras at the start of the second half enabled the Pioneers to march to an 81-70 victory in the last game of the home stand, stifling another Duhawk bid to reach the .500 level.

The Duhawks picked up their third victory at the expense of Winona State, 76-63, right before the Christmas break. At the end of the month Loras traveled to Muscatine to enter the Holiday Tournament there, which they had won the previous year. This time out however, two cold nights could only produce a fourth place finish as the Duhawks were first tripped up by Upper Iowa, 68-64, and then by Culver-Stockton in the consolation round, 62-55.

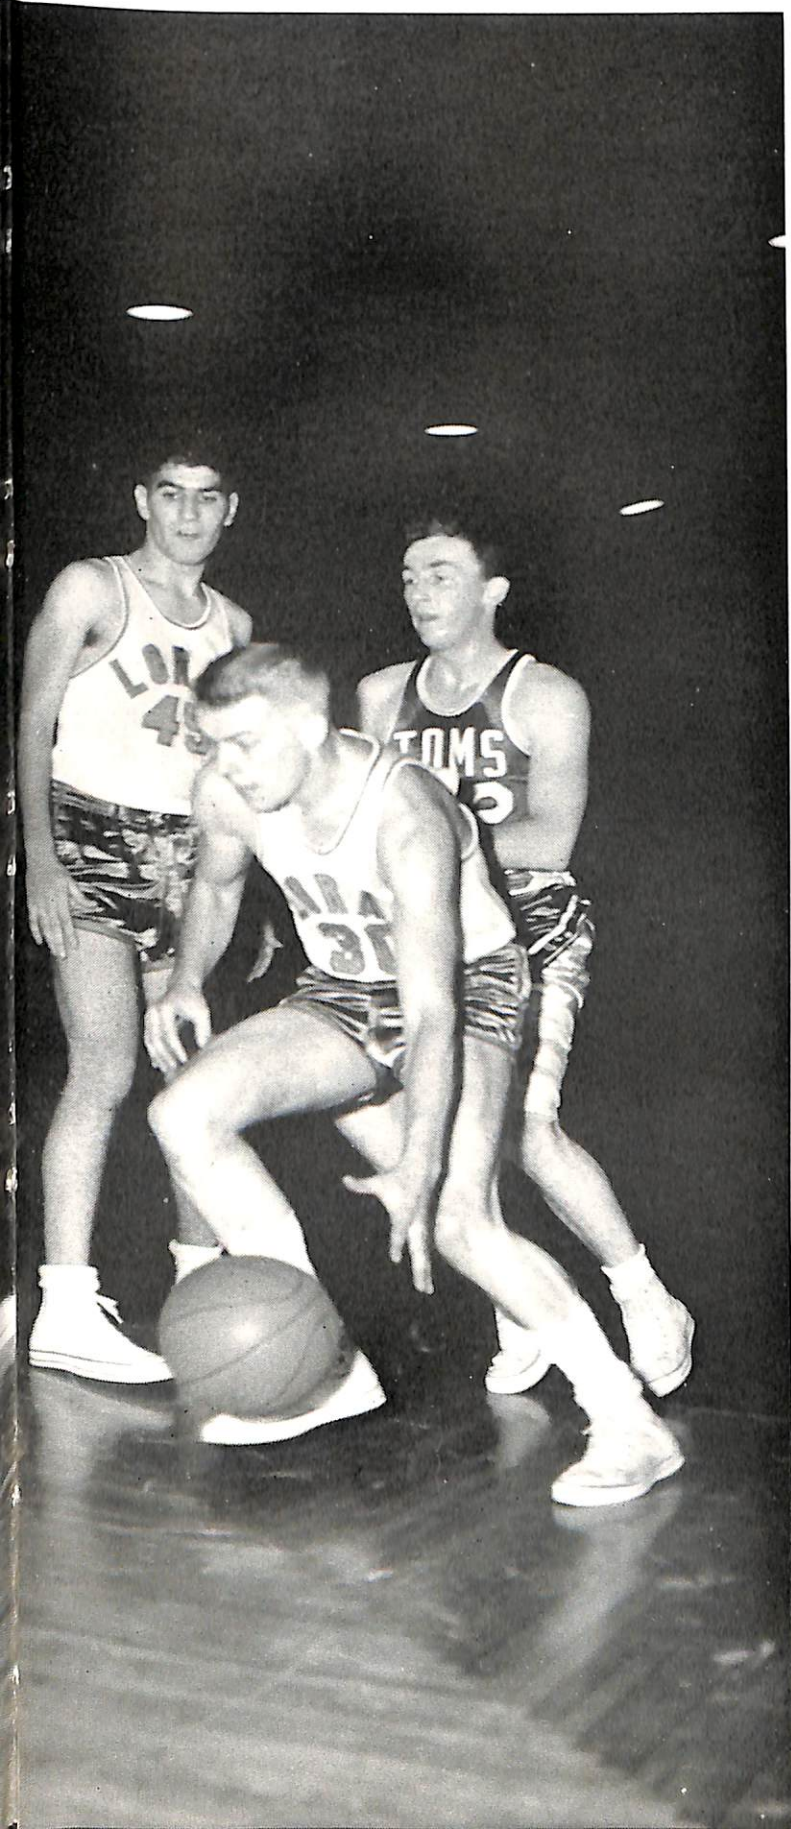

Wright turned in a sparkling performance to open the new year as he led the Duhawks past LaCrosse in an 83-80 overtime victory, scoring 25 points on a .476 shooting percentage. On the road two days later, the Duhawks couldn't keep up the pace as they fell to a hot Quincy quintet by the score of 70-57. A potent

Still on the road, the Duhawks accounted for win number five against ten losses, this time at the expense of St. Norbert, a second-time victim for the Duhawks, 74-71.

Loras made it two in a row as Dowd's cagers applied a full court press to squelch Luther college and roll to a 76-64 triumph in the Loras gym. Five days later however, St. Mary's of Winona put an abrupt halt to any ideas the Duhawks had of extending their winning streak to three straight, as the Redmen downed Loras, 79-66.

Back on the road, the Duhawks, now in the midst of a five game losing streak, fell before Knox College, 94-71, Mankato, 79-66, and Rockhurst, in a contest lost in the last four seconds, 77-76. The Lewis Flyers tagged Loras with the final setback in the string, 99-90, in a game decided from the free throw line.

The first of two contests with St. Ambrose, which Loras won, 64-59, finally started the ball rolling, as the Duhawks were to win five of their final six games. A quick pair against Illinois Tech followed, one at home and the other away, Loras taking them both by scores of 77-52 and 78-67. In the latter contest, Frasco tossed in eleven buckets and twelve free throws for his season high of 34 points in one game.

Great Lakes, stocked with veterans and superior height, turned back the Dowdmen momentarily in their winning skein, 98-68, but in the next two contests, Loras successfully completed its season by wins over Lewis, 79-72, and St. Ambrose, 82-57.

CHEERLEADERS

An entirely new quartet of students filled the cheerleader ranks this year. All freshmen, the squad included Bernie Kuble, Jack Grein, Richard Komp, and Jack Link.

A great deal of credit must go to these men who take it upon themselves to insure that all-important moral support for the Duhawks. Despite only average football and basketball seasons, which not only increased the difficulty of their task but augmented its importance, the cheerleaders once again did a credible job of arousing and coordinating fan enthusiasm. On hand at every gridiron and hardcourt contest, the frosh quartet went all out to keep things hopping in the Duhawk rooting section.

The squad was ably assisted during several basketball games by a group of extemporaneous cheerleaders, whose unusual costumes and antics added a note of color and gayety to the proceedings.

1956-57 JAYVEE

BASKETBALL

The Loras College Jayvee squad turned in one of its best records in recent times as Coach Jean Schneider lead his team through the 1956-57 season with a record of nine wins and only two setbacks.

The junior varsity, composed of underclassmen and varsity substitutes, raced through a schedule of local squads, jayvee teams and smaller schools to bring Coach Schneider's eight year mentor record to 73 wins and 32 defeats.

Freshmen Bob Roth and Ray Kosinski were the big offensive guns in the Jayvee attack, scoring 98 and 96 points respectively over the eleven game slate. Roth, a guard, appeared in nine of the tilts, averaging 10.9 markers per game. Kosinski, whose 6-4 height in the center slot proved its value defensively as well, held down a 10.7 average in a like number of contests.

Forward Bob Willhite claimed the fattest average in the Jayvees' balanced scoring attack, notching 12.7 points per game. Forward Bob Naughton and guard Pat Kapsch were the only two cagers to appear in all eleven contests, as Coach Schneider substituted freely to give all of his squad experience.

As a team, the junior varsity put together an offensive mark of 55.3 points a game, while their opponents could only muster an average of 47.8. The squad's only two losses were by margins of 2 and 4 points, in contests with the Platteville "B" team and Sanitary Dairy respectively.

WRESTLING

With a squad composed mainly of freshmen and sophomores, Coach John Meyers squarred his 1956-57 grapplers against the biggest and toughest schedule of the sports' short three-year history at Loras, and although they won only four of twelve meets, the season could be termed highly successful.

Injuries were a big factor in the wrestlers' losses, and the small size of the squad limited the number of replacements. The opposition, including such teams as Great Lakes, DeKalb, Marquette and Northern Illinois State, which copped its conference championship, provided first-class competition all season.

Only four lettermen returned from the previous season to form the nucleus of Coach Meyers' squad. They included Ron Kink in the 137-pound class, Tom Lilly at 157, Bob Merfeld, 167 pounds, and Jim Oppold in the heavyweight division.

Percentage-wise, Oppold finished the season in the top spot with six wins and only two defeats. Lilly notched seven victories against five setbacks, and captured the most points over the slate—28. Oppold was next with a 20 point total.

Oppold was also top man in the pin department as the heavyweight grappler accounted for three 5-pointers during the season. Lilly and Kink were next with two apiece, and Jack Hoffman, a 147 pounder, scored one fall.

A veteran Duhawk nine turned in Loras College's best baseball record during the 1956 season as they won nine games, losing just two road contests.

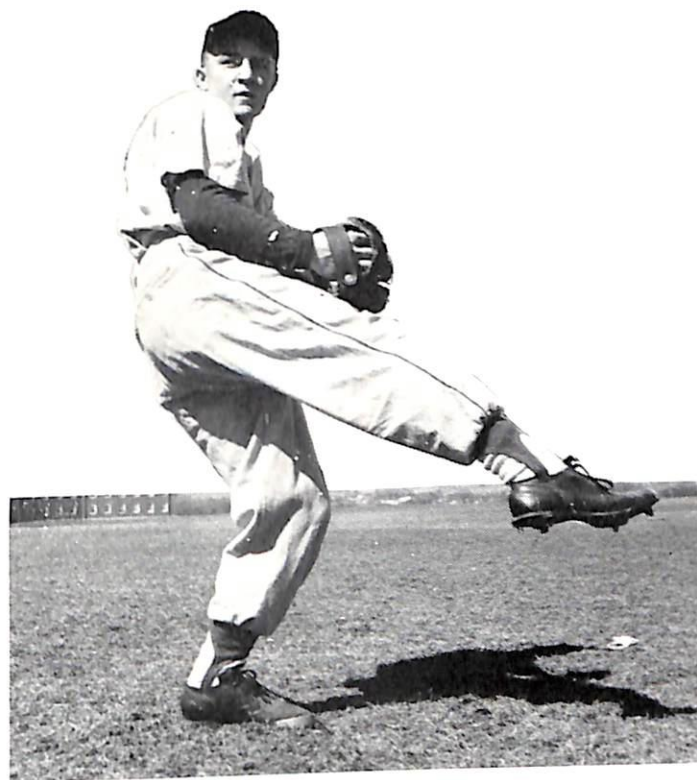

A total of seven games were rained from the records. The two miscues were by identical 4-3 scores to La Crosse State and St. Mary's of Winona, Minn.

Lefty Art Huinker was again Coach Vince Dowd's big mound ace, as he finished his third year of college competition without suffering a loss. Over the 1956 season he added five victories to his collection which now totals 14. Art also re-set his own strike-out record over the route, chalking up a total of 19 in a contest to beat his old record by two.

Dick Winter and Bill Hyland, both righthanders, went undefeated for the Duhawks along with Huinker. Winter racked up two victories over the slate, while Hyland was credited with a single win. Pat Kapsch, a port-side hurler, and Jim Swann, righthander, absorbed the only Loras defeats, one apiece, but Kapsch was able to balance his ledger with one victory.

The Duhawks smashed eight homers over the season. Second-sacker Joe Ottavi was the only player to hit a pair, while Rocky Schiltz, Jack New, both first basemen, Romie Gales, Dick Wright, Sam Azzinaro, outfielders, and Dick Wiley, third baseman, each collected a single four bagger.

For the second straight year it was Wright carrying the big bat as he led the RBI department with 13 and finished third in average with .371. New copped the batting crown with a .417 average while Bob Wolfe, utility third baseman, was second with a .384 average. Schiltz followed Wright with .368 and three others, Gene Potts, shortstop, Terry Brennan, catcher, and Swann finished with .300-plus averages.

1956 TRACK

Seventy candidates, including 11 lettermen, greeted Duhawk cinderpath coach Jean Schneider as he turned to grooming a crew for the 1956 track season. With only two seniors lost by graduation and a crack cross-country team to add strength to the squad, prospects looked bright for a successful season.

As the Duhawks' schedule began to be played however, the thinclads found themselves consistently scoring heavily in the field events, but losing around in the distance and running races. When the books were closed for the season, Loras had posted a 1-2 record in dual meets, and a 1-1 mark in triangular meets. In addition, they participated in the Relays at Beloit, Iowa State Teachers and Drake.

After dropping their first two duals, to Cornell,  $80\frac{1}{4}$  to  $50\frac{3}{4}$ , and Luther, 79 to 52, the Duhawks got full revenge for these setbacks by swamping Coe College by a score of  $114\frac{2}{3}$  to  $11\frac{1}{3}$ . Schneider's cindermen took every first place in the meet, and in six of the 14 events swept all three places. Frosh Mike Murphy was the individual high point man with  $15\frac{1}{3}$  markers as he won the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the broad jump, and tied for third in the high jump.

In their other win, the triangular with St. Ambrose and Wartburg, the Duhawks scored 38 $\frac{3}{4}$  points in field events to break the meet wide open after a nip-and-tuck battle for the first 12 events. Leading by only 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  markers at that point, Loras iced the meet by taking firsts and seconds in the discus and broad jump.

In the individual statistics department, Bill Graham led the squad for the second straight year as he picked up 36 $\frac{3}{4}$  points. Participating in the shot put, broad jump, high jump and discus, his best efforts were in the latter where he picked up 15 points. Close on his heels was Murphy who had 34  $\frac{7}{12}$  points. Sophomore Don Nachtman was third in the scoring column with 33  $\frac{7}{10}$  points and Dale Schultz, the only senior on the 1956 squad, took fourth with 29 points.

1956 TENNIS

Five lettermen returned to form the nucleus of the Loras College 1956 spring tennis squad which notched a 4-4 win-loss mark during the season play.

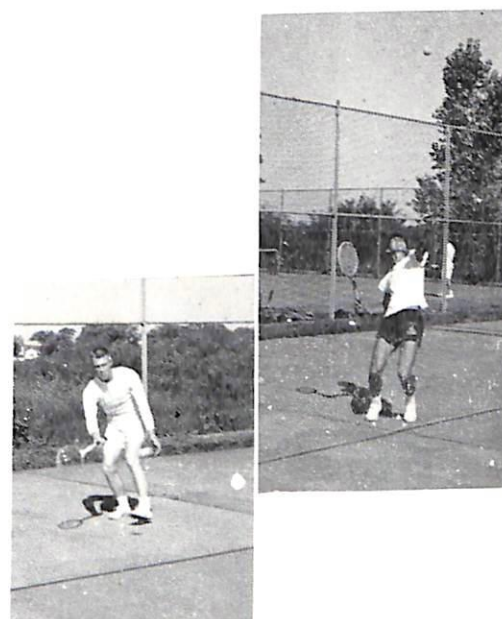

The net unit was built around Dubuque senior Jack Meyer, captain of the squad for the second year, and three-time letterman. More experience came in the form of seniors Stan Duffy and Steve Benni's, junior Ted Muir, and sophomore Bob Hehl, all of Dubuque. Coaches Msgr. J. Timothy Gannon and the Rev. Cyril Reilly also had on hand another talented duo in freshmen Bob Pommerich from Fond du Lac, Wis. and Paul Fitzgerald of Dubuque.

Pommerich proved the leading point getter on the squad as he won five of eight singles matches over the schedule. Three Duhawks won four singles matches, as Hehl turned in a 4-1 mark, Muir ending with 4-2, and Fitzgerald etching a 4-3 record.

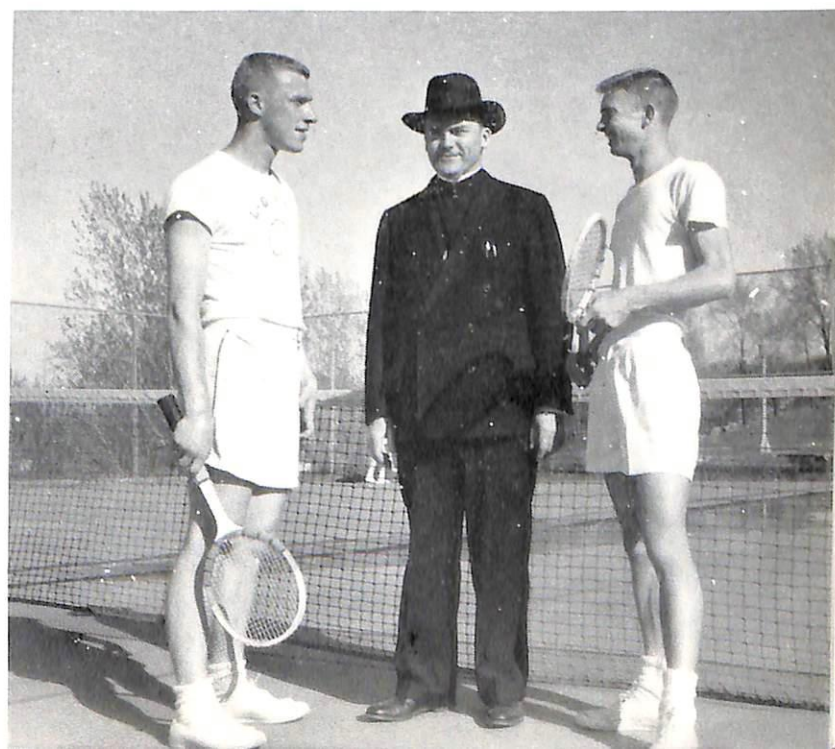

The Loras netters split almost evenly with their opponents in both singles and doubles competition. The Duhawks captured 21 of 43 singles matches and took 9 doubles contests while losing 10. Coach Msgr. Gannon shifted his men several times in composing the doubles partners, using a total of 11 combinations over the eight game slate.

1956 GOLF

The Loras College golf team, boasting balance and consistency, notched an excellent 11-1 record for the 1956 season. Under the tutorage of Coach Lester Becker, the Loras linksmen permanently inked themselves in the win column after dropping the opening match of the season to Beloit, 12<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-5<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, rolling on from there to assemble one of the longest strings of victories in recent years.

Kermit Marsh, sophomore letterman, led the Du-hawk attack with a season average of 74 and a well developed habit of capturing medalist honors. John Cassidy and Pat Mulgrew, sophomores, followed closely as they posted consistently low scores, low enough on occasion to take the medalist honors from Marsh. The three remaining first team golfers were junior lettermen Charles Locher, Paul Breitbach and Charles Wagner.

The remainder of the slate of victories included Platteville, 15-3, Wartburg, 15<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, St. Ambrose, 9<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, Platteville, 12-6, Wartburg, 18-0, Iowa State Teachers, 6<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-5<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, St. Ambrose, 16-2, and Rockford College, 14<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>.

After the various athletic seasons are over, it comes time to pass out honors to those who have played the game well. Despite the ups and downs of the Duhawk sports slate, several outstanding individuals were singled out during the year for their accomplishments on the mound, gridiron and the hardcourt.

Senior Arthur T. Huinker, Loras' lefthanded pitching ace, was awarded the Chicago Alumni Club's annual "Scholar-Athlete" trophy, during half-time of the Loras-St. Ambrose basketball game. Still in the process of rewriting Loras pitching records, Art has consistently displayed his ability in the classroom during his school career as well.

During the same ceremony, basketball star Dick Wright was presented with the Delta Sigma fraternity trophy as the most valuable player of the 1956-57 season. Another honor soon followed for the senior cager when he received honorable mention on the 1957 All-American Basketball Team, selected by the Tablet, diocesan newspaper of Brooklyn, New York.

Award Winners

John Wright presents a plaque to Mr. Al Schramm, citing his outstanding work as intramural director. Dale Soppe, right, applauds.

Gridders honored at the close of the football season included tackle Jim Oppold, who was named to the first team of the All-Catholic Midwest team chosen annually by the LaCrosse Register. The Duhawk sophomore, who has won two letters under Coach Charlie Toole, also made the honorable mention list chosen by Williamson Features Syndicate of Houston, Texas.

Junior Jim Ball, a three year veteran, was chosen as one of the guards on the small college All-Catholic All-American team, selected by the Brooklyn Tablet. End Dan Ahearn, a sophomore, was given honorable mention for the second straight year. Ahearn also received honorable mention from the Williamson Syndicate.

Another deserving sportsman, intramural director Al Schramm, was honored by the student senate for his outstanding work in developing and guiding Loras' intramural program during the past three years. Mr. Schramm was presented a plaque citing his fine work in operating a suitable program of recreation for over 1,000 Loras students.

The Loras College intramural sports program, under the direction of Al Schramm, again offered students one of the most comprehensive athletic slates in the history of the school. From September to May the success of the program in providing Lorasmen with enjoyable and developmental leisure activity was evidenced by the large participation in every phase of the setup.

A total of fifteen different sports were offered throughout the school year, with approximately 80% of the students at the college taking part in at least one of them.

A pat on the back must again go to director Schramm, whose administration of the intramural program demanded clock-like efficiency and precision scheduling in order that the hundreds of games and events on the calendar could be played.

Among the large number of trophies that annually go to winners of team and individual championships, stands the most prized of them all—the intramural champion award. This trophy is presented at the end of the year to the Lorasman who has amassed the highest number of points during the intramural season.

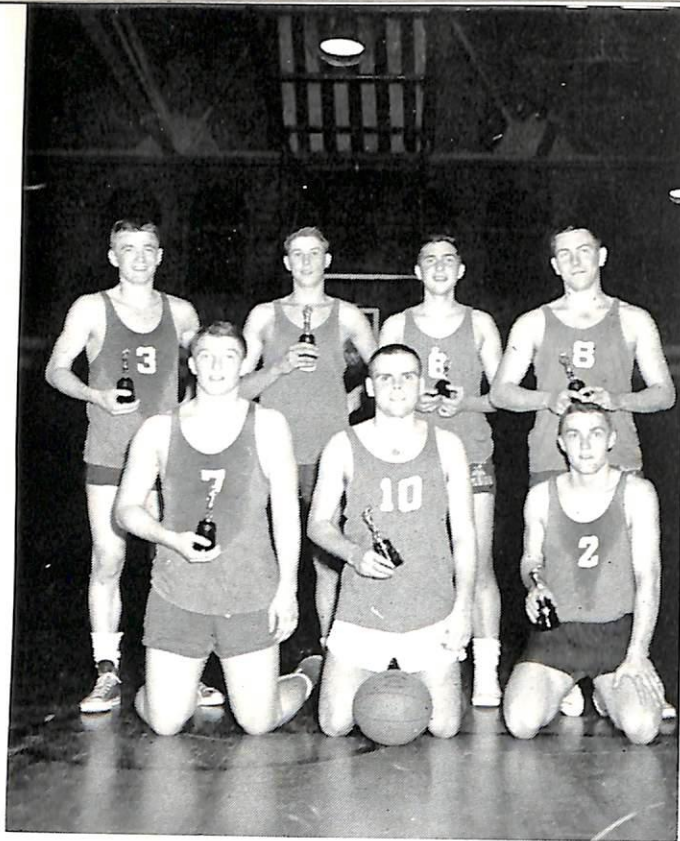

A similar system to that used in past years was employed to determine the 'mural champion. Individuals entering an activity received 100 points; an additional 500 points was received for each time a student participated in a contest. Members of first, second and third place teams were awarded 5,000, 4,000 and 3,000 points respectively.

A student winning first place in an individual activity gained 5,000 points with 4,000 going to the runners-up. As an additional honor, all team winners have their names engraved on plaques bearing the name of the sport they participated in, for display in the intramural office.

The intramural program offered fifteen sports this year, including touch football, basketball, bowling, volleyball, baseball, softball, tennis, golf, horseshoes, table tennis, weightlifting, handball, track, soccer and free throwing.

The winter basketball program drew the largest turnout of the various sports, as 704 students formed 61 teams in an off-campus and an on-campus league. Touch football, divided into freshman and upper-class circuits, was next in popularity, attracting 315 participants which made up 29 teams.

Approximately 265 students took part in the bowling competition, and 180 in volleyball. Spring football attracted about 450 participants in both the 12 and 16 inch leagues, while baseball was high on the list for 192 competitors composing 16 squads.

The annual free throw contest made a surprising showing this year, as 154 contestants entered the event.

Top, right. Don Johnson, left, and Bill Palen swept through the fall horseshoe play to take the doubles crown in that sport. Dennis Schmitz, absent for this pic, captured the singles championship.

The new Victory Bell finds its first home as Loras defeated St. Ambrose in the first meet of the newly instituted extramural tournament between the two schools. Above, Jim Beeftink, of St. Ambrose, presents the Bell to the Loras representatives Wayne Wright and Bernie O'Connor.

Extramural Tournament

A brand new extramural tournament with St. Ambrose of Davenport was a fitting climax for another successful year of intramural play on the Loras campus. The school's non-varsity athletes took it right in stride too, as they blanked their opponents in every event, winning 25-15. Five points went to the winner of a contest, and three to the loser.

As just reward, a replica of the famous victory bell, which signifies football superiority between the two schools, was presented to the victors. A donation of the NFCCS, the trophy was presented to Jim Beeftink of St. Ambrose, regional chairman of the NFCCS, and Pat Hayes of Loras, who was acting chairman of the meet. Wayne Wright and Bernard O'Connor, who each participated in three of the five events, were selected to accept the award on behalf of their mates.

The tournament opened with O'Connor taking two straight table tennis games in the singles division by scores of 21-13 and 21-12. He then teamed up with Wright to eliminate the St. Ambrose's doubles competition, 22-20 and 21-13.

In volleyball, the Gay Dogs, winners of their season tournament, took on St. Ambrose's outfit and bested them in a two-out-of-three series, 14-13 and 18-7. Down in the Loras alleys, another Gay Dogs squad was matching pins with the Ambrose bowlers, emerging on the long end of a 2550-2305 score. Gene Pierotti was high man for Loras with a single game total of 206.

In the final event, the Loras intramural basketball champions, the Irish, nosed out St. Ambrose's hardcourt representatives by a score of 47-46. Jim O'Brien was high for the game with 17 markers.

Student Co-op
University of California at Los Angeles
Los Angeles, California

In Los Angeles, California, a favorite gathering spot of students at the University of California at Los Angeles is the Student Co-op because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly university atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in college haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.

AND SO...

This final bit of copy is written with a great sigh of relief. From the very start, with possible art sketches, to the delivery of the completed book, our job has been more than a job. It has been an experience we're glad came our way, for everything to be learned was practical. And it was fun, for we had our little humorous sessions and periods of relaxation. We plugged away, and then suddenly there it was—the end!

It is only right to recognize those who have made our job so much easier. Our only regret is that this token of gratitude couldn't be expressed in the front of the book, to be the first thing the reader views. To our moderator, Fr. Sullivan, "Thanks" from a staff long on energy, but sometimes short on experience. To Ralph Martin, of the Telegraph-Herald, a respectful nod of appreciation for his patience and cooperation. This also applies in full to his staff at T-H. Also, thanks to all the donors, patrons and advertisers who help keep this book within its allotted budget. We feel a necessity to recognize all those students who assisted in their own way, such as donating informal pictures, or just inquiring as to the progress of the book. You have all helped in a greater amount than you might realize.

A special note. Thank you, Pat Connolly, for your "donated snapshots" which we borrowed permanently. Thanks also to you, Dan Lyons, for your Lorian publicity and witty sarcasm, and you, Jack Page, for your colorful suggestions. We've enjoyed this year with all the fellows in the happiest place on campus, the Loras College News Bureau.
